CARRANZA DECLARES AMERICAN CONSUL A PERSONA NON GRATA

REBEL CHIEF REFUSES TO DISCUSS REASONS

Mystery Marks the Request, as Neither the Governor of Sonora Nor the U. S. Consul Will Talk of Matter

(By Associated Press.)

EAGLE PASS, Tex., May 19.—Governor Carranza, the Constitutionalist leader, is preparing a message to President Wilson notifying him that United States Consul Luther Tellsworth at Piedras Negras is persona non grata and requesting his withdrawal. He declined today to discuss reasons therefor but said later he would make a statement. Consul Ellsworth declined to talk about the matter.

Piedras Negras is the Mexican town opposite Eagle Pass and is the headquarters for the Carranza regime.

No Proof Against U. S. Ambassador Wilson

WASHINGTON, May 19.—White House officials today when informed that dispatches from Mexico City interpreted Secretary Bryan's statement of last Saturday as an indorsement of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, expressed the opinion that there never had been any proof to substantiate the charges recently made against the ambassador.

ANTI-ALIEN LAND BILL SIGNED BY JOHNSON

Measure Becomes Law August 17—Referendum Petition Already in Circulation

(By Associated Press.)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 19.—Governor Johnson signed today the alien land bill, against which Japan protests, and which the California legislature passed by an overwhelming majority over the remonstrances of President Wilson and Secretary Bryan. The act will go into effect ninety days from date, or August 17.

Referendum Petition Is Now Being Circulated

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—The Asiatic Exclusion league of California instructed its legislative committee to draft a petition for a referendum vote on the alien land bill to be circulated immediately after the measure is signed by Governor Johnson.

The objections of the league are based on the clause in the Webb act which permits three-year leases. It is the purpose of the organization to circulate at the same time an initiative petition for a law which will exclude Japanese and Chinese Asiatics both ownership and lease holds under any conditions.

The burden of the speeches at he exclusion league's meeting today was that the leasing clause is a joker which will allow the Japanese ultimately to own the land in effect at least. The speakers denied the wisdom of the argument that to withdraw the leasing right immediately from the Japanese would work too great a hardship upon landowners.

A meeting will be held today at which the the petition will be taken up more fully and possibly a rough draft of the proposed initiative law will be presented.

The meeting Sunday was presided over by the president of the organization, Olof A. Tveitmoe, one of the convicted labor leaders in the Los Angeles Times dynamiting case, who is now out of the federal prison at Leavenworth on bail. Tveitmoe was re-elected president of the Asiatic Exlusion league yesterday.

Referendum Will Help Government to Adjust Matter

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The movement in California to submit the anti-alien land act to a referendum is understood to be viewed by the administration as affording further opportunity for diplomatic adjustment of the issues between the United States and Japan.

It has been assumed here that because of the apparently overwhelming sentiment in California in favor of Japanese exclusion from land owning, there might be difficulty in accuring the 20,000 signatures necessary to invoke the referendum. Now, however, that the exclusion elimination itself or rather its most radical component—the Asiatic Exclusion league—has taken the movement, the probabilities of its success have greatly increased, in the official judgment.

The Japanese government is not expected to approve that method of dealing with its protest, though probably it will be difficult for the Tokio foreign office to find technical grounds for objection to the method in which California is attempting to legislate.

White House officials today believed no reply would be made to the Japanese protest until Governor Johnson actually signs the Webb bill. It was reiterated that the exchanges with the Japanese ambassador, Viscount Chinda, had been of the most friendly and cordial nature.

DR. JOHN T. STONE MAKES STATEMENT ON HIS ELECTION

Says He Believes in God, His Brethren and His Duty, and Asks Northern Assembly to Refrain From Personalities

RESOLUTION LOOKING TO ORGANIC UNION ADOPTED

Intermediate Catechism Attacked by Philadelphia Minister, but Assembly Overwhelmingly Upholds It

A statement to the northern assembly by Dr. John Timothy Stone, the moderator, concerning his election to that position; the adoption of a resolution looking to organic union between all the various Presbyterian groups in the United States which hold the same faith, and an attack by Rev. B. M. Gammill, of North Philadelphia, on the intermediate catechism submitted by the special committee which formulated the same, were the features of the Monday morning session of the northern assembly in the Baptist Tabernacle.

Immediately after constituting the Northern assembly Monday morning, Dr. John Timothy Stone, the moderator, took occasion to say a few words in reply to the morning paper story (a reproduction from the New York Herald), which said that his election was the result of a "deep-laid political scheme."

He said:

"Gentlemen, may I ask you to give your undivided attention for a moment? We are here as representatives of a great church, to do the work of this church. We have no right to allow any personalities or any diverging thoughts to control our time. I believe that the newspapers, which have so well reported and are reporting the work of this assembly, are intending in every way to do the work of God with us. If any have erred in judgment, let us overlook it, or better still, look not at it. I have not seen the morning paper, and I beg of you not to ake my time in discussing any personal matters. I wish to state that all I have to say is, I believe in my Lord; I believe in my brethren, and I believe in doing my duty."

William T. Ellis, editor of The Continent, who seconded Dr. Stone's nomination, gabe to the reporter's covering the assembly the following statement:

"If there is a particle of truth in the story that Dr. Stone's nomination was in any wise pre-arranged, then, obviously, neither Dr. King nor myself is a gentleman or a sincere Christian, for we explicitly stated to the contrary. Therefore the subject is out of the realm of discussion on my part."

"What have you to say on your election as moderator?" Dr. Stone was asked by a reporter.

"Nothing, except that I would positively have refused the honor had not Dr. King, woh nominated me, said: 'This man has no claims on the assembly, but the assembly has claims on him.' I was not willing to assume heavier obligations in view of present responsibility, but I have never knowingly run away from duty."

VICE MODERATOR.

Moderator Stone announced that he had appointed as vice moderator, Mr. Frederick A. Booth, of New York. Mr. Booth came forward and was introduced to the assembly.

A movement looking to organic union of all the Presbyterian groups in America holding the same faith was indorsed by the assembly by the adoption of a resolution authorizing the stated clerk to transmit proposals to the various supreme judicatories.

The resolution was part of a report by the special committee on church cooperation and union, of which the stated clerk, Dr. W. H. Roberts, is chairman.

The resolution does not contemplate immediate union. It simply gets the movement under way. Two or three years probably will elapse before the movement reaches the stage for final consummation.

However, the assembly's action in unanimously adopting the resolution, without a word of objection or discussion, and the accompanying applause were enough to show the astonishment among the commissioners in favor of organic union.

The assembly next took up the regular procedure, hearing first the report of the committee on bills and overtures, which is the first thing on the docket every morning.

$100,000,000 ENDOWMENT.

After this came the report of the board of ministerial relief and sustentation, the feature of which was a startling appeal by Rev. H. W. Foulkes, D.D., secretary of the board, for the church to rally to the campaign for a $100,000,000 endowment for worn-out Presbyterian preachers and for widows

SOUTHERN CHURCH REFUSES TO CHANGE THE INFANT CLAUSE

Report of Committee, Turning Down Amendment but Declaring Belief Infants Are Elect and Saved, Adopted

LIVELY DEBATE PRECEDED ADOPTION OF REPORT

Assembly Decides That Three-Fourths Vote Shall Be Necessary to Ratify Union With Any Other Branch of Church

By a vote of 135 to 44 the report on the elect infant clause by the bills and overtures committee, headed by Dr. Thomas S. Clyce, was carried Monday morning just before adjournment of the morning session of the Southern Presbyterian assembly at the North Avenue Presbyterian church.

The report of this committee came as an answer to overtures from several presbyteries that asked that chapter X, section 3, of the confession of faith be amended notwithstanding the fact that it had been before the church for a period of thirteen years.

The adoption of the committee's report was carried despite the announced vote of the eighty-five presbyteries of the assembly who failed to support the amendment by a three-quarter ballot in its favor. Those who supported the clause and were responsible for its being carried were emphatic in their declaration that the action of the assembly should not be construed as a reversal of the presbyteries' opinion, but simply as the opinion of the assembly.

Action on the part of the conference followed closely upon the report of the committee appointed to canvass answers of Presbyterians to assemble overtures. This report showed but fifty-five presbyteries out of eighty-five in favor of the "elect infant class," which was less than the necessary three-quarters.

COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

Dr. Clyce then read the unanimous report of his committee, which was as follows:

"There have come into our hands overtures from Albemarle, Muhlenburg, Kings Mountain, Potosi, Wilmington, Concord, West Hanover and St. Louis presbyteries, asking that chapter 10, section 3, of the confession of faith be amended.

"We give answer as follows: In view of the fact that the question of amending this section has been before the church for thirteen years and the church has not agreed on the form of change to be made and in view of the further fact that the assembly of 1902 (Alexanders Digest Revised, page 8) declared that the holy scriptures amply warrant us in believing that all infants who die in infancy are included in the election of grace and are regenerated and saved by Christ through the spirit, which declaration we would here reaffirm, we recommend that the amendment for the present be sent down to the presbyteries."

REPORT IS OPPOSED.

A move for the adoption of the report was made by Dr. R. S. Reed, when Dr. W. M. McPheeters arose to announce his opposition to its acceptance by the assembly. It was the contention of the speaker that the church was not authorized to say that all infants are saved, and that the action of the majority of the presbyteries in not passing upon the question favorably and asked that their action not be reversed. "We cannot interpret the word of the church from the manner in which it has already been interpreted by the presbyteries," he said. "I hold that such action is unconstitutional and not in keeping with our belief. We cannot ignore our solemn covenant that has always been our creed."

Dr. McPheeters was followed by Dr. Clyce in support of his committee's report. Dr. Clyce declared that irrespective of what the belief of many was, that it was the hope of nearly all that all infants dying in infancy were saved. "Our report," said he, "does not change the confession of faith. It embodies our hope and belief that all are saved and should be so interpreted. We are not ignoring the expressed will of the minority, but are representing the belief of the assembly the belief that all infants dying in infancy are saved by the grace of God. It is our contention that the holy scriptures amply warrant us in this belief." He referred to the action of the assembly of 1902 which had upheld the belief and at that time declined to accept any amendment to the elect infant clause.

Debate on the question occupied practically all of the morning session, but it was evident from the outset that the report of the committee would be adopted by a large majority. Repeated calls for the question were heard at the conclusion of and during many of the speeches for and against the report.

THE JAPANESE SITUATION AT A GLANCE

U. S. ASSEMBLY FAVORS SWEEPING REFORM LIST

Decides to Make Christian Union Herald Paper Exclusively for Young People

The United Presbyterian assembly adopted Monday morning the report of the special committee on reform, which included, among other recommendations, urgent appeals for temperance; stricter Sabbath observance; the reading of the Bible in public schools; "equal rights and complete justice" for all men in all stations of life; for a single standard of purity; uniform divorce laws; the proper regulation of marriages; for the principle of arbitration in industrial disputes, and for release from employment one day in seven.

The assembly decided that in the future the Christian Union Herald shall be published in the interests of the young people, and adopted resolutions to observe Labor day Sunday every year and to take actife steps toward bettering social and economic conditions generally.

"BOOZELESS" WHITE HOUSE.

The adopted report of the special committee on reforms rejoiced "in the attitude taken by our president, vice president and secretary of state in banishing liquors of all kinds from White House functions during the present administration," and in the passage of the Webb-Kenyon interstate commerce bill, which was designated as "a severe blow to the liquor traffic and indicative of a nation-wide sentiment not even dreamed of by the most sanguine friends of temperance."

After indorsing the recently published report of the standing committee on reform, the special committee declared that its report would view conditions as "truthists," not as pessimists or optimists.

Praise was given to the work of the National Reform association; the Anti-Saloon league; the W. C. T. U.; the Lord's Day alliance.

CITIZENSHIP CONFERENCE.

It was recommended "that we remember in our prayers the Second World's Christian citizenship conference to be held in Portland, Ore., June 29 to July 6."

The committee indorsed a plea from the federal council of the Churches of Christ in America, urging the board of directors of the Panama-Pacific exposition "to adopt every means possible to prevent the exploiting of the exposition by commercialized vice and to protect the visitors to San Francisco from such influence as would tend to lower public morals."

Gratitude to God was expressed for "history's striking evidence of His blessing upon the nations and individuals who have honored His Holy Day," and "for the national legislation which has closed all first and second class postoffice on the Sabbath and given a rest day to about 350,000 employes."

SUNDAY CLOSING EXPO.

It was decided to urge upon the national officials that any appropriation made to the Panama-Pacific exposition be conditional on its managers signing a contract with the treasurer to close the exposition on the Sabbath. It was urged that all government exhibits be covered on Sundays, if the exposition is kept open.

The passage of "an effective Sabbath law for the District of Columbia, forbidding all unnecessary work and all theaters and games on the Lord's day," was urged.

Increasing war against the social evil and the white slave traffic was urged.

It was urged also the Bible be read daily in the public schools, the committee noting "a determined effort to forbid the reading of the Bible in our public schools."

INDORSE FEDERAL COUNCIL.

The action of the federal council of the churches of Christ in America was indorsed as standing for "equal rights

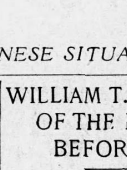
WILLIAM T. ELLIS DISCUSSES SOME OF THE BIG QUESTIONS THAT ARE BEFORE PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLIES

Union of Southern and U. P. Assemblies Now Freely Predicted Within One Year, He Says—Union Seminary Question One of Doctrinal Belief

By William T. Ellis

NO city in the south ever had so many unemployed preachers as were in Atlanta yesterday. For every man occupying a pulpit there were perhaps as many of ten sitting in pews. Distinguished clergymen of national reputation enjoyed the novel experience of sitting as other members of a worshipping congregation. Most of the city's pulpits were filled morning and evening by visitors, and Atlanta got its closest view of the kind of men who make up this pan-Presbyterian assembly.



The day was a great one for the city's churches. In addition to the special preachers before the regular congregations, there were ten special meetings in the interest of various assembly causes. This assembly Sunday revealed in its own quiet, intimate way, the leadership that inheres in this great gathering. It would be possible to reconstruct the entire executive administration of the central government, at least in the higher offices, with efficient men from the commissioners to these assemblies. They are men informed upon the great political, social and economic questions as well as upon religious themes. The welfare of America is affected by the deliberations of this great gathering.

The power of propaganda inherent in this body is enough to stir the Ad Men's club with envy. As messengers of the proceedings of the great Atlanta meeting, these men will carry the story to the four corners of the earth. Because of them the name "Atlanta" and the important events that have been related to the assemblies will be retold to hundreds of thousands of congregations. Any principle or procedure strongly stressed here is sure of a nation-wide hearing.

UNION WITHIN A YEAR.

This lends significance to the action of the Presbyterian church in the United States and of the United Presbyterian church in adopting a basis of union at this meeting. It projects the whole question of Presbyterian union into the consciousness of the country. The facility with which the plan went forward before these two assemblies and the wise reasonableness and practicability of the statement will mightily affect future negotiations of the same sort. It is being freely said that actual union of the two denominations mentioned will be completed within a year.

Today the assemblies go into routine business. The U. S. A. body will have its first taste of serious polemics over the relation with the Union Theological seminary, New York City.

The services of yesterday sweetened the temper of everybody and insured a more conservative and charitable treatment of the great controversial themes that must come before some of the meetings of the week.

A QUESTION OF BELIEF.

The doctrinal issue which is so to the fore in the U. S. A. and the U. S. churches tinges all debate. The Union seminary question is not one of administration, but one of theological belief. It has been complicated by a great deal of partisanship, for the churches have naturally grouped into conservative and liberal wings.

The "Brief Statement" which will be up before the U. S. assembly tomorrow may be adopted, although it is likelier that the committee will be continued in its labors with approval expressed of its work thus far. Certainly the temper already shown is one of tolerance. There have been a thousand minor and greater evidences of the fact that these are forward looking men who have come to Atlanta and have been fired with the visions of brotherhood and services which this great convocation has afforded.

"FAITH AND DEVOTION ARE GREATEST CHURCH NEEDS", SAYS MODERATOR

Dr. John Timothy Stone Gives The Journal His Views on Pressing Problems Before the Church

The great need of the church today, according to the Rev. John Timothy Stone, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church of Chicago and newly elected moderator of the Northern assembly, is "a more definite personal faith in Jesus Christ and in the power of God's spirit to work practically in the lives of men, and a greater devotion to prayer and God's word exercised in personal and organized service."

These two things, declares the new moderator, are what the church and its people are most lacking in and what they need the most. It should be the aim of every Christian, he says, to practice and spread them.

In discussing the social evil, Dr. Stone said:

"I do not believe in segregation of the social evil, for it does not segregate either the participants or the disease which it causes. I believe the only real remedy for this or any other sin is to be found in preaching the cross of Christ, and lifting up the sinner and bringing him into personal contact with Christ."

"As to China," says the doctor, "ten dollars spent for work in China now will, in my judgment, do more relative good in hastening the kingdom of Christ than ten times that amount spent ten years later. I believe with all my heart that the heart that includes a world in its love will never neglect the nearby suffering child of God.

"I believe that social service will be and is, as it always has been, the outgrowth of faith in and love for Jesus Christ."

PRESIDENT'S AUNT DIES OUT IN DENVER, COLO.

(By Associated Press.)

DENVER, May 19.—Mrs. John Woodrow, an aunt by marriage of President Wilson, died at her home here last night. An acute attack of bronchitis caused death after an illness of only a few days. Mrs. Woodrow was eighty-one years old. Her husband was a brother of the president's mother.

BURNS' INVESTIGATOR OUTLINES HIS THEORY OF PHAGAN MURDER

It Coincides in Practically Every Feature With Theory Held by Solicitor Dorsey, Detectives and Pinkertons

MYSTERY CAN BE SOLVED, INVESTIGATOR DECLARES

He Holds Long Conerence With Solicitor, Who Has Welcomed Him Into Case, Urged to Contribute to Fund

The theory of the murder of Mary Phagan entertained by the city detectives and outlined in The Journal first on Sunday a week ago is the theory in which C. W. Tobie, manager of the criminal department of the William J. Burns agency, believes.

Mr. Tobie, who has been employed by Attorney Thomas B. Felder, has assumed charge of the investigation of the Phagan case for the Burns' agency pending the arrival of his chief.

To The Journal Monday morning he outlined his theory of the case in the office of Colonel Felder.

"The Phagan murder is not in my opinion a hopeless or impregnable mystery," he said, "and I am confident that we will find and convict the guilty man.

"There are several features of the case which I do not care to mention which have not been worked out. I am going right after these ends of the affair, and believe that I will get results."

Mr. Tobie, who appears more of a prosperous business man than a detective, leaves a long record of success behind him, and has worked on a number of the most famous mysteries which have been solved through the Burns agency. He does not consider the Phagan case as even an unusual mystery, and declares that many more clues have been left to work from than in some cases where he has successfully hunted a murderer.

As a premise, Mr. Tobie says that the murder was evidently committed by some one who had either been connected with the factory at some time or was connected with it on Saturday, April 26.

When asked for his theory, he declared that in his opinion the murder was not premeditated.

HIS THEORY OUTLINED.

"I believe that an insulting proposal was made to Mary Phagan," he said, "and she rejected it. When she would not promise not to speak of the matter, I think her assailant became angry and struck her. The force of the blow, together with the force of her falling body caused a fracture at the base of her skull, when her head struck the iron lathe handle.

"Her body was carried into a nearby closet, where attempts were made to revive her. When she failed to revive the man reasoned that he would certainly be charged with a heinous crime when she recovered, so, panic stricken, he tied a cord around her neck tight enough to cause strangulation if she should revive.

"I believe that later the body was carried to the basement, the murderer taking it there with a view to crémating it in the furnace. Then realizing that the sight of smoke would probably cause comment, as it was known that the factory was not in operation that day, he gave up the attempt.

"In an effort to throw suspicion from himself he wrote the notes and pulled the staple out of the rear basement door to make it appear as if the body had been carried in from the outside.

"The idea that the murder was not committed in the factory is preposterous. Not only was the crime committed there, but some one very familiar with the place is responsible. Further, I do not believe the girl left the factory after she went for her pay."

The Burns man came directly here from Chicago with orders to drop everything in making his search for Mary Phagan's slayer. He is working directly for Mr. Felder, who is raising a fund by public subscription to pay for the investigation, which, he says, he is certain will result in the conviction of the murderer.

Mr. Tobie declares that he is hampered in no way in his work and is going to

"HAPPY JACK" WEARS SMILE TO DEATH CHAIR

Slayer of "Paddy the Priest" Is Electrocuted in Sing Sing, Protesting Innocence

(By Associated Press.)

OSSINING, N. Y., May 19.—John Mulraney, who was to have been put to death as a murderer on March 17, but won a sixty days' reprieve by declaring in a personal appeal to the governor that he was going to death as the martyr of a criminal 'code of honor," was electrocuted at Sing Sing prison today.

"Happy Jack," as he was known to his comrades, bore to the last the smile that had won him his nickname, and called back to the other inmates of the death cells a cheerful "good-by." Charles Becker, the former New York police lieutenant, and the gunmen involved with him in the Rosenthal murder, were among the fourteen who answered.

The murder of which "Happy Jack" was convicted was that of Patrick McBreen, known as "Paddy the Priest," a New York saloon keeper, who was shot while standing behind his bar on the night of October 3, 1911. John J. Dowling, who died before he could be tried, and Mulraney both signed confessions to the murder, but in the death house Mulraney repudiated his admissions, claimed an alibi and asserted he had accepted the conviction following a "crook's" code of honor not to squeal on the other fellow. Justice Rosalesky, of New York, decided, however, that there were no grounds for a new trial.

CANADIAN LOOT SPENT IN CHICAGO SALOONS

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, May 19.—Almost $100,000 of the $271,000 in Canadian money stolen from the branch of the Bank of Montreal at New Westminster, B. C., has been exchanged for United States currency by Chicago saloon keepers, according to the assertion of the superintendent of a detective agency made last night.

Michael J. Flanagan, proprietor of a saloon, was arrested early yesterday morning when two men accused him of giving them Canadian money to exchange. Three other saloon keepers are under surveillance, and arrests may result.

William J. Lawler and Charles O'Leary, arrested on Saturday night, charge Flanagan with being the receiver of part of the stolen money. Lawler asserted he received $545 in bills from Flanagan on Wednesday afternoon. The money finally reached the local branch of the Bank of Montreal and was traced back.

Three of the alleged robbers who tunnelled into the vault of the Westminster bank, are in prison, awaiting trial. The fourth member of the gang is hiding in Chicago, police say, and it is from him that Flanagan is said to have obtained the money which was given to Lawler.

MUCH PUBLIC WORK ACTIVITY AT VALDOSTA

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 19.—An unprecedented amount of public work is going on in this city at the present time. There are five or six different jobs employed in the various jobs. One gang is excavating on Central avenue, west, for asphalt paving, while another gang is putting down paving on Central avenue, east. Another gang is paving sidewalks on Lee street, while another is laying material on Rogers street for the same sort of work.

Another large crowd is at work on the vitrified brick paving in the wholesale district below the Atlantic Coast Line railroad. A bunch of carpenters are at work on the new Carnegie library, which is being erected on the corner of Central avenue and Briggs street.

A large force of hands is filling in the city cemetery and beautifying that place, under directions of a landscape gardener. Another large force of hands is extending the sewerage work in the northern part of the city and still another force is busy on water mains which are to be enlarged and extended in all sections of town.

At no time in the history of Valdosta have more different classes of public improvements been made at one time. Within the next few months all of the streets will be paved and the appearance of the city will be entirely changed.

DISTRICT COURT IS IN SESSION AT ROME, GA.

ROME, Ga., May 19.—The United States district court for the northern district of Georgia convened Monday morning, March 19, in the federal building, Judge William T. Newman, district judge, presiding.

The following court officers will be in attendance: Hon. F. C. Tate, United States district attorney; John W. Henley, assistant district attorney; O. C. Fuller, clerk; John D. Stewart, Fred L. Beers and John C. Printup, deputy clerks; Walter B. Johnson, United States marshal; J. H. Rhinard and L. B. Griera, deputy marshals.

Sixty odd criminal cases have been set for trial, thirty odd grand jury cases and a number of civil cases. The court will likely be in session all the week.

Copperhill Improves.

COPPERHILL, Tenn., May 19.—After losing the first two games of the season Copperhill strengthened her team by the addition of three new players, and defeated the fast team from Ball Ground, Ga., Saturday, by the score of 4 to 3.

Features were the pitching of Lennings and batting of Barclay and Little for Copperhill, each securing a home run. Barclay's home run in the last half of the ninth inning won the game.

Woman of Wealth Starves to Death in Yonkers Mansion

YONKERS, N. Y., May 19.—In the spacious residence occupied by herself and her brother on a fashionable residence street here, Ada Dunscomb, a middle-aged spinster, was found dead last night a victim of starvation, according to Coroner Dunn.

So far as the searchers could discover, there was no food in the house. The authorities stepped into the case when a physician whom S. Whitney Dunscomb, Jr., sixty years old, the dead woman's brother, had summoned, found Miss Dunscomb dead on a couch in her bedroom, her body clad in mere rags, and notified the coroner.

The Dunscomb residence has been a house of mystery to the neighbors for the twelve years since the family moved here, the blinds always being drawn, no servants being employed and no one ever being seen to visit the mansion. The officials who visited the place today reported that the costly old furniture seemed to be falling to pieces from neglect, while dust and dirt had been allowed to accumulate, apparently for years.

Dunscomb was reticent as to himself and the family affairs in general, only saying he would go to New Jersey to notify relatives there of his sister's death. Neighbors believed the pair to be wealthy.

W. L. ARNETT DEAD; UNIVERSITY STUDENT

ATHENS, Ga., May 19.—W. L. Arnett died at a local hospital at 2 o'clock this morning. He was taken sick eight days ago with fever. He was a member of the junior law class, having spent two years before in the academic department of the university. He was the most popular man in his class and had a bright mind and a most promising future. He was also a star football player.

At the time of his death his father, mother, brother and two sisters, from his home at Odessa, Ga., were with him.

He was twenty-six years old, and his death has cast a gloom over the university faculty and students.

The body was taken to Odessa this afternoon for the funeral. Seven young men from the athletic and law departments accompanied the body.

3,000 MEN JOIN BIRMINGHAM STRIKE

(By Associated Press.)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 19.—Because master builders and contractors refused to grant demands of organized carpenters for a raise of five cents an hour, making the wages fifty cents, 3,000 union men, carpenters, plumbers, structural iron and steel workers, painters bolsters, bricklayers and other craftsmen went out on a sympathetic strike this morning.

Three skycraper buildings are involved, an estimate being made that building work to the amount of $5,000,000 is being interfered with. Contractors who have signed with the carpenters are feeling the strike also.

BUFFALO "TRIES" TO GET ANOTHER CONVENTION

HOUSTON, Tex., May 19.—The grand lodge of International Switchmen convened here in biennial session today with about 1,000 delegates and visitors in attendance. St. Louis, Denver and Buffalo are after the next meeting and the contest is spirited. A movement is on foot to meet hereafter quadrennially instead of biennially so as to reduce expenses.

Each grand lodge meeting is said to cost about $35,000 apart from the individual expense.

DANIELS ENTERTAINED AT HIS BIRTHPLACE

WASHINGTON, N. C., May 19.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels arrived from Norfolk, Va., Sunday afternoon for a short visit to this, his birthplace. He was met by a committee of citizens headed by Mayor Kugler, and given formal welcome.

The program of entertainment in his honor today includes a luncheon and a trip down the Pamlico river. Prior to the luncheon he will deliver a brief address. The secretary will leave for Raleigh, N. C., tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Debnard Dies.

ABBEVILLE, Ga., May 19.—After a lingering illness of several weeks Mrs. J. A. Debnard, of Pine View, passed away Sunday morning. Deceased was thirty years old and before her marriage was Miss Cleo McLeod, daughter of Mr. J. S. McLeod. She is survived by her husband and two children, besides a large number of relatives and friends. She will be buried tomorrow at Pine View cemetery.

MRS. MANGLES CONVICTED OF EVADING CUSTOMS

Frisco Woman Fined $2,000 for Declaring False Value on Imported Goods

(By Associated Press.)

TRENTON, May 19.—A fine of $2,000 was imposed on Mrs. Agnes Mangels, of San Francisco, who is alleged to have landed on May 12 from the steamer Amerika at Hoboken without declaring a proper value of goods brought by her from abroad. Mrs. Mangels entered a plea of non vult. Her counsel pleaded with the court to extend mercy and not impose a prison sentence.

The value of the goods brought into the country was estimated by the federal customs appraisers at about $5,500, of which $1,800 was declared. It was stated in the court that restitution to the value of 60 per cent of the goods had been made to the customs officers.

Miss Agnes Tillman, a niece of Mrs. Mangels, was cited to appear because of alleged improper declaration of gowns and jewels but the charges against her were withdrawn. Miss Tillman agreed to pay the duty for the full value of her property.

RATE CASE IS DECIDED AGAINST "SOO LINE"

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—A railroad is not warranted in exacting increased rates merely because it has not direct facilities for delivering shipments, the interstate commerce commission today held, in effect, in a contested case involving freight rates on ice from Wisconsin points to Chicago.

The "Soo line" has no terminal facilities in Chicago. "If it cannot afford to pay for terminal services," the commission announced, "it will doubtless have to retire from competitive traffic. It may not either by itself or in conjunction with other carriers maintain unreasonable or unjustly discriminatory charges."

NORMAN HAPGOOD GOES WITH HARPER'S WEEKLY

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 19.—Announcement was made today by Norman Hapgood, that Harper's Weekly, of which he is editor of the new owners, will be published by the McClure Publications, Inc. With the exception of Mr. Hapgood, the officers and managers of the Harper's Weekly company will be the same as those of the McClure publications. Mr. Hapgood also announced that no radical changes in the weekly were immediately contemplated.

STANDARD OIL FIGHTS FOR LIFE IN MISSOURI

(By Associated Press.)

KANSAS CITY, May 19.—Further hearings in the case in which the Standard Oil company of Indiana seeks to show why it should not be ousted from Missouri as a trust were begun here today before Commissioner Montgomery, appointed to take testimony by the Missouri supreme court at the time of the suspension of its ousted decree against the company.

Game Violators Acquitted

FORT GAINES, Ga., May 19.—During the session of the city court here last week three cases were tried against prominent men of the county for violating the game law, baiting and shooting birds on a baited field. Each defendant was acquitted.

It is very likely that there will be no more conducted against parties in this county for violating the game and fish law.

Alleged Forger in Cell Makes Money Writing For Papers

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 19.—Charles T. Sweet, one of the prisoners in the Lowndes county jail, who is charged with forgery, is having considerable success in disposing of short stories which he has written. Sweet has been a sort of poetic genius and has traveled all over the country, having been in Uncle Sam's army at one time. Before he got in trouble he contributed a number of articles to the newspapers and after he was placed in jail on a charge of forging a relative's name on a note at the bank, he bought a typewriter and has devoted much of his time to writing stories.

During the past week or two five different magazines have had short stories or poems from his pen and in each instance they have paid him for them.

Sweet is going to be tried next week and he is confident that he will be acquitted, as he claims that he had permission to sign his mother's name to the paper in question.

POLICE PROTECT SILK STRIKERS RETURNING

Twenty Strikers Return to Work Between Police Lines Two Blocks Long

PATERSON, N. J., May 19.—Through a lane of police two blocks long, twenty hands formerly employed by the silk mill of the Arthur Price company, went back to work today after a strike of more than two months. Hundreds of pickets of the Industrial Workers of the World sought to prevent their return, but the police guard was too effective. There was a lively scrimmage for a time, and sixty pickets were arrested.

The Price mill is a comparatively small one, employing normally thirty hands. The return of its strikers with demands unsatisfied is heralded by the manufacturers as meaning the near-end of the strike. Leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, on the other hand, maintain that the fight will go on unabated and that few others will yield.

OLDEST CITIZEN OF LITHONIA IS DEAD

Intervention Granted

ROME, Ga., May 19.—Judge Moses Wright yesterday granted the intervention sought by E. A. Denny, T. K. Scott and E. W. Butler, receivers for the Rome Insurance company, who through their attorneys filed a rule nisi asking that the $475,000 of income certificates in the Cherokee Life Insurance company held by them be exchanged for stock in the company which is to operate the Cherokee.

The exchange will be made as soon as possible, there being no opposition to the movement on the part of the stockholders of either company. The shareholders of the Rome Insurance company will receive approximately $30,000 of stock in the Cherokee company, or nearly one-third of its capitalization.

DIRT SPILLING LAW TO BE DISCUSSED BY COUNCIL

Wagon Drivers May Be Made Equally Responsible With Owners

More stringent legislation against dirt spilling on the streets of Atlanta will engage the attention of the general council Monday afternoon when Councilman Claude Ashley introduces an ordinance to make drivers of wagons equally responsible with their owners.

Some months ago council repealed the old dirt spilling ordinance and such a widespread protest followed that it was re-enacted into municipal law. This old ordinance simply makes the owner of the wagon spilling the dirt liable to a fine in police court.

Wagons operated by contractors who haul dirt from excavations in the city frequently strew dirt along the pavements and the application of fines in police court have not served to remedy the situation. Councilman Ashley is of the opinion that if the drivers of wagons are made equally responsible they will be more careful and the evil will thereby be considerably lessened.

Alderman J. W. Maddox, who is himself an excavation contractor and who has several times paid fines for a violation of the dirt spilling ordinance, is expected to oppose the Ashley amendment.

Two of the criticisms most frequently urged against Atlanta by visitors is that its streets are dirty and that there is too much smoke here. A number of the council are earnestly endeavoring to minimize both complaints.

At the meeting of council Monday afternoon Councilman Albert Thomson Peachtree street, and Councilman Ashley will introduce a resolution calling for a joint committee of councilmen and citizens to investigate the necessity for a bond issue for extending the sewer system, building additional schools and other improvements.

The street committee will make recommendations for regrading West Ivy will introduce a resolution calling for an appropriation of $1,000 with which to entertain official visitors from other cities who come here to inspect public improvements.

Mayor Woodward will send a message to council giving his views on the recent probe of the fire department.

"BLACK HAND BOMB" WAS BUT A "BUCKLING" TILE

Natural Phenomenon Results in a Number of Sensational Rumors

Heat caused the buckling of some new tile sidewalk in front of 521 Crew street shortly after 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and resulted in a rumor to the effect that unknown parties had used a bomb to blow up the residence of Payton C. Turner at that number.

The tiling had been set firm in cement and when it buckled it made a report like the slamming of a door. Several squares of the tiling were disturbed.

An investigation by the police and others showed that the occurrence was due to a natural phenomenon.

BLAZE IN CAFE CAUSES EXCITEMENT IN HOTEL

Patrons of Stag Hotel Given a Thrill Early Monday Morning

Patrons of the Stag hotel on Walton street were treated to a handful of thrills about 2:30 o'clock Monday morning when fire downtown fire company tumbled out to drown a small blaze in Cafe Donechaud just beneath the hotel.

The cafe fire really didn't amount to more than $50 loss, if that much. But from the way the firemen answered the call those who were asleep in the Stag hotel must have thought the town was going up in smoke.

Many looked his head out of a second story window, took in a whiff of the smoke and through half-opened eyes saw the firemen below. His first impulse was to climb right out that window, but the cries of the spectators kept him back.

At the Cafe Donechaud it was stated that the origin of the fire is not known.

MRS. LONGSTREET HAS NOT QUIT TALLULAH FIGHT

Washington, D. C., May 19, 1913.
Editor The Journal.

Dear Sir: Your paper carried a statement in a recent issue that I had abandoned the fight to save Tallulah Falls. This is not true. I trust you will correct the report.

The struggle to save Tallulah Falls does not end with driving me from the Gainesville postoffice. It does not end with the "dummy" lawsuit which is being pulled off in Habun county, at special term trial, four months ahead of time, before the lawyers employed by me under direction of the men of Georgia who make laws for Georgia, could have the case ready for trial.

The struggle to rescue Tallulah is just in its beginning and if God lets me live, that struggle will never end until the vandals and pirates who are today trespassers on their old hills of the land of my best affection, have pitched their tents in some other quarter of the world.

It is true that they have been successful in having me exiled from the land of my fathers. But the St. Helena to which I am banished, will not be so far away that I can not be recalled. Recalled I shall be. If not sooner, then at last, at least, the red old hills of the land on whose bosom I was cradled, shall open to receive me, and within sound of Tallulah's endless anthems I shall find sleep.

SHOOTS AT BURGLAR CLIMBING IN WINDOW

R. R. Knight, who boards at 72 Washington street, waked up about midnight Sunday just in time to see a negro man climbing in his window, which opens on the front porch.

Knight cried out, "Who's there?" and while the burglar paused fired on him. Call officers found the burglar's hat near the front steps, but the burglar himself escaped.

CHURCHMEN MAKE GOOD USHERS AT BIG MEETING

3,000 People Were Seated in Auditorium Sunday in Twenty Minutes

Much credit is due to the young men who have been acting as ushers at the Auditorium, for the nice manner and the quick way in which they have seated the thousands who have attended the meetings of the Presbyterian geenral assemblies.

A record was established Sunday when these young men, who are members of the Junior Brotherhood of the Central Presbyterian church, seated 3,000 people in twenty minutes.

As each new comer entered the door he was met by a neatly dressed young man, who greeted the stranger with a smile, and placed a program in his hand. Another man was there to tell the crowd softly and quietly that there were plenty of seats on the right, or left, as the case happened to be. Either way the stranger turned he was met at the head of an aisle by an usher, who started him on his way to another usher, who took him to a good seat. A hymn book was soon in the seated person's hands, and he was ready to enjoy the program.

The task of taking care of the crowds at the auditorium has been under the direction of G. W. Clayton, the class president, who has been assisted in directing the ushers by E. S. Veal.

ONE PULPIT 36 YEARS, IS DR. MASON'S RECORD

Commissioner From New Jersey Is One of the Leading Men at Assembly

Dr. James Gilbert Mason, of New Jersey, is one of the prominent commissioners in attendance on the Presbyterian assembly.

Dr. Mason was born in Jonesboro, Tenn., and later moved to Washington, D. C., where for five years he was pastor of the North church of that city. At present he is pastor of a church in Metrichen, N. J., where he has filled the same pulpit for thirty-six years.

He was nominated for governor of New Jersey by the Prohibition party on April 22 in the Trenton convention. He is a powerful speaker, and a factor in the community in which he resides.

Dr. Mason has made many friends during his visit to this city, and is one of the ablest men in attendance on this big gathering.

"RURAL CHURCH" WILL BE TOPIC OF DISCUSSION

The rural church will be the topic of discussion at a meeting this Monday afternoon in the First Methodist church at 3:30 o'clock.

Dr. Marion H. Wilson, author of "The Church of the Open Country," will be on the program. He is known as one of the best informed men in America on this subject.

William B. Bennett, a former congressman from New York City, also will be heard. Mr. Bennett is a member of the Methodist home mision board.

The meeting is to be one of the most important of the convention, and the public is extended a cordial invitation to attend.

"BAD" NEGRO TAMED AND NOBODY IS "SLICED UP"

Women passengers were alarmed Sunday evening shortly after 9 o'clock when a negro ran amuck on a West End trolley car.

The people were returning from church, when suddenly they were startled by the sight of a negro running through the car, with a knife in his hand. He had had an altercation with the conductor, it is said, and after the latter and the motorman had attempted to quiet him, he declared he would "slice up" somebody.

The negro was subdued when Car Inspector Pittman arrived and arrested him and sent him to the police barracks.

WALRAVEN SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES IN ACCIDENT

Man Who Went Over Forty-Foot Embankment With Runaway Truck, Died Sunday

Mr. O. F. Walraven, the county employe who was injured in an automobile accident Saturday on North avenue, opposite the Tech athletic field, died at a local sanitarium Sunday morning at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Walraven was riding on the front seat with the driver of an automobile truck belonging to the county, when it became unmanageable and ran off the street embankment and rolled forty feet to the bottom. Walraven was picked up, almost paralyzed over his entire body, and taken to the Grady hospital. The man who was driving escaped unhurt. The truck was wrecked.

The deceased is survived by his wife, two children, three brothers and one sister.

The funeral was held from the residence, 506 Woodward avenue, Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock, and the interment was in West View.

PRESBYTERIANS SUPPLY MANY ATLANTA PULPITS

Services in Churches, Colleges, Missions and Prisons by Visiting Ministers

Visiting Presbyterian ministers preached Sunday in all Atlanta churches of Protestant faith; held services in the colleges and missions of Atlanta and in the United States penitentiary.

Dr. Timothy Stone, moderator of the U. S. A. assembly, preached Sunday morning at the Harris street Presbyterian church; Dr. J. S. Lyons, moderator of the U. S. assembly, preached at the North avenue Presbyterian church and Dr. Robert M. Russell, moderator of the U. P. assembly, preached at the Central Presbyterian church.

Other ministers preached in the various other Protestant pulpits of Atlanta. The sponsors at the United States penitentiary heard an address by Rev. George W. Crabtree, and songs by a quartet of young men from the Union Theological seminary of Richmond. The students of the Georgia School of Technology were addressed by Rev. Frank E. Higginth and the young ladies of Agnes Scott college by Rev. James Beveridge Lee. There were also addresses at the various missions of the city.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT AND "SKY-PILOT" ARE HEARD

Speaking to the men in the audience straight from the shoulder, two men of entirely different types held a vast audience of 3,000 people spellbound Sunday afternoon at the auditorium. It was the first evangelistic meeting held during the Presbyterian assembly. The speakers of the occasion were Dr. John Wills Baer, president of the Occidental college, Los Angeles; and Frank Higgins, known as the "sky pilot of Ontario," and a friend of the lumber jacks of the Erie region of the Canadian north.

The men were given rapt attention by their hearers, and every one in the audience rose quietly after Dr. Baer had recited the Lord's creed, as if he was talking in an every-day conversation, and asked all those to rise who believed the words he had spoken.

The "sky pilot of the lumberjacks," Frank Higgins, spoke for twenty minutes, and every one was impressed with his simple manner of saying what he thought. Music was furnished during the afternoon by the Union Theological seminary quartet, and the double quartet from Tusculum.

AUTOISTS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE NEAR EAST LAKE

Georgia Railroad Train Strikes Car Full of People at Railroad Crossing

A narrow escape from death for five Atlantians took place Sunday afternoon when a Georgia railroad train sideswiped the touring car of J. H. Hirsch at the railroad crossing on the East Lake drive. All of the five passengers escaped without serious injury.

With Mr. Hirsch, who was driving, were Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Carmichael and their fifteen-year-old son and twelve-year-old daughter. Mrs. Carmichael, suffering from the shock and bruises, was picked up by Winter Alfriend and Hughes Roberts, who were soon on the scene in an automobile. They took her to her home, 645 Edgewood avenue, Inman Park.

Mr. Hirsch stated afterwards that there is a deep cut just before reaching the crossing, and that he took pains to slow up and listen for a train, and not hearing anything he went on. As he started across he saw the big engine on them. He shoved on the emergency brake and turned his car in the direction of the engine. His car was then sideswiped and all the occupants thrown out.

Mr. Hirsch is a member of the firm of Hirsch & Spitz, manufacturing company. Mr. Carmichael is manager of the furniture department of M. Rich & Bros.

The automobile was wrecked.

SCOTTI SLATED TO BE OPERA'S IMPRESARIO?

This Is the Story That the New York Review Springs on Broadway

According to the New York Review of May 17, Antonio Scotti will be the next impresario of the Metropolitan Grand Opera company.

The story says that while the members of the organization are in Europe, rumors are rife along Broadway that neither Giulo Gatti Gasazza, the general manager, nor Arturo Toscanini, the musical director, will return to this country after their present contracts expire two years hence.

"Although officially denied," the Review says, "there is not the slightest doubt but that there was considerable friction between the impresario and the musical director last season."

The story continues that Toscanini's real reason for not wanting to come back is that he has never felt at home in New York, having been deprived of the social and artistic atmosphere to which he had been accustomed.

Scotti has had the ambition to be an impresario, it is said, and has shown wonderful executive ability, which is extraordinary in an artist. It is further stated that he stands well with the directors of the company.

NINETY DEGREE WEATHER PROSPECT FOR TUESDAY

One doesn't have to look at the thermometer these days to find out that it's hot, yet a glance at the mercury shows a steady rise that promises to give the city a ninety-degree temperature by Wednesday.

So prophesies Weather Man C. F. von Herrmann. Sunday, he says, was the hottest day of the season so far, the mercury reaching eighty-eight degrees. At 7 o'clock Monday morning it was seventy-two degrees, and it was expected to top Sunday's mark before night.

Local showers are predicted for Monday night or Tuesday afternoon.

BURGLAR, HOLDING GUN, ROBS MAN AND HIS WIFE

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Lie Still in Hotel While Burglar Retreats

Walter M. Wilson, a member of the firm of Wilson Brothers, real estate agents, and his wife were compelled to lie still in their room at the Adair hotel, 205 Peachtree street, early Sunday morning while a burglar, with a pistol pointed at them, backed out of the room with Mr. Wilson's watch.

On the way out the burglar got 21 cents out of a slot machine at the hotel office.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have a room on the ground floor. Between 1 and 2 o'clock Sunday morning Mrs. Wilson was awakened by a noise in the room. She dimly saw a man's form standing at the table, and she roused her husband.

"There is a man in the room!" Mrs. Wilson only whispered, but her husband declared later that it sounded like a roar.

"What!" he exclaimed, also in a whisper that sounded like a roar.

Before he could do anything further the burglar leveled his revolver on Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and said, "Lie still, both of you, or I'll shoot."

Still holding the pistol, the burglar backed toward the door and passed out, slamming it after him as if angered by the interruption.

He was a white man and evidently an experienced hand. He pushed the key out of the door and got in with a pass key.

A boarder who came in late Saturday night said he saw the burglar in the hall. The stranger said he was from New York and looking for a room.

The police were notified, but haven't much of a clue to work on, as about the only thing Mr. and Mrs. Wilson could distinguish in the dark room was the burglar's glittering revolver.

BLUE AND GRAY REUNION PLANNED BY CAMP 159

Atlanta Camp 159, U. C. V., Invites Visitors in City to Attend Meeting

A regular love feast around "the old camp fire" has been planned by the veterans of the Atlanta camp, No. 159, United Confederate Veterans, when they hold their regular monthly meeting in the senate chamber of the state capitol this Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

There are many visiting Confederate veterans attending the meetings of the Presbyterian general assembly, as well as many veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, and to every one, whether he were the blue or the gray in the war between the states, is extended a most cordial invitation to be on hand and join in the reunion.

This invitation includes all visitors, whether they are veterans or not.

CHILD IS RESCUED FROM CATCH BASIN DROWNING

Three-Year-Old Isaac Janks Saved by James T. Burns at 123 Cooper Street

Little Isaac Janko, tre three-year-old son of Max Junka, a tailor, residing at 127 Cooper street, had a narrow escape from death late Sunday afternoon, when he fell head foremost into a ten-foot catch basin in front of 123 Cooper street.

Had it not been for the timely assistance of John T. Burns, of 123 Cooper street, who heard the child's muffled screams as he toppled into the basin, the little chap undoubtedly would have been drowned in the murky waters of the basin.

The youngster was playing with a ball, which rolled into the basin. He crawled down under the lid to get his ball and lost his balance and fell in. The water at the bottom broke his fall and saved him from any broken bones.

Mr. Burns was on his front porch, and when he heard the child's cries he rushed to the basin, climbed down into it and held the little fellow out of the water until persons in the neighborhood secured ropes and pulled them both out.

Mr. Burns took the boy to the Red Cross hospital, at 88 Cooper street, where Dr. W. B. Lingo dressed the wounds sustained by both. The child's head was badly contused and his left arm was lacerated. Mr. Burns was contused about the arms and body.

It was reported Monday morning that little Isaac was resting comfortably and would probably be able to leave the sanitarium during the day.

STREET MEETINGS WILL BE HELD BY EVANGELISTS

Meetings primarily for men will be held each evening on the streets of Atlanta preceding the evening union meetings by the Presbyterians in the auditorium. These meetings will be held each night for the next four evenings. They will be in charge of Melville Trotter, an evangelist well known in that denomination.

Each day at 12:15 o'clock a special meeting will be held in the Grand theater, and at the noon hour services will be conducted in many of the factories.

ST. LUKE'S METHODIST HEARS DR. ALLISON

Dr. John Lee Allison, a Presbyterian commissioner, of Alexandria, Va., preached at St. Luke's Methodist at 11 a. m., from Gen. 2:7, emphasizing the value of the soul by demonstrating that man is a living soul.

Dr. Howard Agnew Johnson, of Stamford, Conn., preached at 8 p. m. from Mat. 25:4. He spoke of the absolute necessity of reserved strength against the day of stress and trial, indicating in four particulars how this reserve is to be gained and kept.

Both sermons were spiritual, simple and profound.

ORDINARY'S INCOME FOR YEAR TOTALS $9,063.20

John R. Wilkinson Files Sworn Statement for First Quarter With Comptroller

Fees received by John R. Wilkinson, ordinary of Fulton county, for the first quarter of the present year, aggregated $5,880.60, of which amount $3,534.80 was disbursed for salaries, printing, postage and other office expenses.

Ordinary Wilkinson's net income from his office for the months of January, February and March, was, therefore, $2,265.80, or at the rate of $755.26 per month. At this ratio his net receipts for the entire year will be $9,063.20.

Ordinary Wilkinson, in compliance with the state law, Monday morning made a sworn statement of his receipts and disbursements to Comptroller General W. A. Wright. He did not go into detail in this statement.

The ordinary is the third of the Fulton county officials to file reports with the comptroller general, the other two being Tax Collector A. P. Stewart and Tax Receiver T. M. Armistead. These three officials successfully attacked the constitutionality of the law passed at the last session of the legislature, which was designed to place all officials in Fulton upon a salary basis.

Messrs. Armistead and Stewart, however, made their reports to the comptroller general early in April. Ordinary Wilkinson awaited the outcome of the litigation then before the supreme court. The various other officials made no reports for the reason that they had accepted the salary law and were not then receiving fees. However, now that the courts have knocked out that law and they will revert back to the fee system, each of them must file sworn quarterly statements of the collections and disbursements of his office.

HOW AN INDIANA GIRL
Got Strong and Well Again at Small Cost.
Miss Alta Abel, of West Baden, Ind., says: "I was a complete wreck, always tired, worn out and nervous. I had to spend about one-third of my time in bed and my life was not worth living. Vinol, your delicious cod liver and iron tonic was recommended, and it has done me more good than all the medicine I ever took in my life. That nervous and tired feeling is all gone. I have gained in health, flesh and strength, until I feel like another person."
Vinol is the most efficient strength creator for such women. It is the medicinal elements of cod's livers contained in Vinol aided by the blood-making and strengthening properties of tonic iron, which makes it so far superior to all other tonics to build up health and strength for weak, tired, ailing women. It contains no oil and has a delicious taste.
We give back your money if Vinol does not do all that we claim. Elkin Drug Co., Atlanta, Ga.—(Advt.)

TRADE INTERESTS BUYING AND COVERING CAUSE RISE

Market in New York Closed 5 to 9 Points Higher Than the Previous Close

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 19.—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 2 to 4 points on lower Liverpool cables, favorable weather and bearish spring sentiment. There was said to be a very great deal of cotton for sale and prices rallied 7 or 8 points from the lowest during the early trading on scattered covering and a further slight demand from trade sources.

The market's steadiness inthe face of bearish weather and crop reports seemed to render shorts meager later in the forenoon when offering became more active. A few stop orders were uncovered on the advance and prices at noon were about 7 to 9 points net higher.

The demand was rather less active above 11c for new crop positions and prices eased off 3 or 4 points from the best during the early afternoon. Liverpool, however, remained steady in the absence of any aggressive selling.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, May 19.—Cotton futures opened steady at a decline of 3 to 6 points. Cables were not quite as good as expected and weather reports from the entire region was more favorable than otherwise although the Atlantics did not get enough rain over Sunday in the opinion of the bull side. Prices broke to the lowest in the early trading. Offerings were slender and at the end of the first half hour of business prices were 1 to 2 points over Saturday's close.

The market was quiet throughout the morning session but buying on a moderate scale started and the rise of 10 points at 11 offered to supply the demand. Bears put out very little spot cotton ten when prices broke on rather a decided advance. The reason for this appeared to be the lack of adequate rains in the Atlantics and reports from some parts of the west that while the crop is doing well it is at least three weeks late. In the trading up to noon prices went 9 to 10 points over Saturday's last quotations.

COTTON GOSSIP

Washington's long-range forecast: Generally fair over the eastern portion of the country during the early days of the coming week with a northward area of showers in the Pacific states and the plateau region for a day or two and the extending into the Rocky Mountain states. This most valley may be expected. "By the middle of the week," the bulletin said, "the showers should extend through the great central valleys and the upper lake region and during Thursday or Friday into the lower lake region, the middle Atlantic states and New England. After the middle of the week generally fair weather is indicated except over the Mississippi river for a few days with higher pressure, but by the end of the week another disturbance will probably appear over the Canadian northwest. In the south Thursday or Friday local showers occasionally local thunderstorms will continue while in the west gulf states local showers are likely during the first part of the week. Temperatures in the south will be about normal."

Man-show says: Generally fair weather in the belt. Nice, warm weather. Nice rains in northwest Texas. Very few scattered light showers elsewhere.

Washington—Revised average in cotton last year 7.9 cents, or 34,760,000 bales. The equivalent estimate made July 1 last year was 34,007,000.

Dallas news: Texas and Oklahoma generally clear and warm.

Forecast: Louisiana: Unsettled scattered showers tonight or Tuesday. Light easterly to southerly winds on the coast.

Arkansas—Generally scattered showers tonight or Tuesday, somewhat warmer tonight in the west portion.

Oklahoma—Unsettled, showers tonight or Tuesday, cooler Tuesday.

East Texas: Tonight and Tuesday unsettled, showers in north portion tonight or Tuesday, cooler tonight except in southeast portion, cool.

West Texas—Tonight and Tuesday unsettled, showers in north portion tonight or Tuesday, cooler tonight except in southeast portion, cool.

Kentucky—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; warmer Tuesday.

Georgia and Alabama—Local showers tonight and Tuesday.

North and South Carolina—Fair tonight and Tuesday.

Mississippi—Local showers tonight or Tuesday.

STOCK GOSSIP

Dow Jones' summary: Supreme court does not meet today. International Harvester earned 15.24 per cent on common in 1912 against 14.26 per cent in 1911. Paterson fears clash with Industrial Workers of the World today when some employees try to return to work.

Governor Silzer opens campaign at Buffalo today for direct primary legislation. Twelve industrials declined .12; twenty active rails declined .25. London prices were generally unchanged to 1/4d as if stocks would do better. Rumor says a plan for dissolving the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific will be announced soon which will stimulate some buying by the investors. Brooklyn Rapid Transit declared regular quarterly 1 per cent dividend week from today. Believe that stock will gradually work higher before that date.—Potter.

Rock Island week on account of interest in San Francisco property, talk of receivership in San Francisco.

The weakness in Rock Island and San Francisco stock is holding the balance of the market down.

GRAIN GOSSIP

Bartlett, Frazier & Co. say: Wheat—Short sellers continued aggressive. Twelve industrials of an enormous yield, but in the meantime the strength in the cash position is becoming more pronounced and many shorts are buying to cover. receipts, small stocks and a good shipping inquiry from the east. Believe while the visible supplies are the main argument of short sellers, that the strength of the cash position continues and dry weather still complained of, especially east of the river. This latter condition is rather helpful than otherwise at this time in the deferred futures. Provisions—There is a good demand for lard on all kinds of weakness.

B. W. Snow says: The oats crop through central Illinois down to Bloomington to Alton has suffered material damage during the past week. Last two weeks and is now going back rapidly. Corn—Has been a very beautiful crop but off color, and is now so poorly started that full recovery is not possible even with favorable weather conditions perfect. There are a few localities where local showers were experienced last week and where good rains fell, but most of these are small and not important. South of Springfield, Illinois, the general crop has been checked and frequently beginning to turn yellow. Generally speaking, the crop planting is well toward completion, good rains for winter wheat and oats and all crops.

Entire grain belt forecasts showers, warmer.

Barrett picking up July wheat since the open. Big shipping inquiry. Local buyers of July. Local crowd were the sellers.

34,766,600 ACRES COTTON PLANTED LAST

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The area planted to cotton in the United States this year is 34,766,600 acres, under cultivation at the end of June, was 600,000 greater than the total acreage of harvested cultivation estimated in its preliminary report in March, according to information received by the department and with the assistance of the crop reporting board. Based on the quantity of cotton ginned, it reached 34,760,000 acres. Harvested planted was 34,766,000 acres instead of 34,000,000 acres. The preliminary estimate of area picked is estimated at 34,283,000 acres. Abandonment was 1.4 per cent, which is less than 1.4 per cent. The revised figures will not affect the department in making its cotton acreage estimates for 1913.

Revised estimates place the acreage yield at 172.3 pounds, instead of 183.2 pounds as preliminarily estimated.

HAYWARD & CLARK'S COTTON LETTER

NEW YORK, Atlantics, May 19.—Liverpool came in surprisingly easy on Monday, being off from about 7 points lower than due on old crops and 3 points lower than due on new crops. Spots 3 points lower; sales, 6,000 bales. Our bleed not get any line on explanation of this weakness. The favorable weather was evidently the end of last week and mor particularly the very favorable weather of last week and again causing pessimism.

The latest continental advices say that Turkey is reinforcing its lines of defense and fortifications and is ready to carry on the war, and that as peace treaty will be signed by Bulgaria and Servia are on the verge of war. The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says, "In that one, from the start. Under such conditions the early revival in Europe's more than uncertain. The masses will continue to practice reserve and economy and values decline. Weather conditions over Sunday were very good. There were further beneficial showers Saturday in the eastern states, followed by partly cloudy to fair, warm weather yesterday over the entire belt. Northern Texas and some good rains Sunday. Indications are for fair, warm weather and showers in the northwestern quarter of the belt, partly cloudy elsewhere, possibly a few isolated thunder showers.

Our market opened lower with a disappointed feeling over the poor Liverpool and the poultry cal news, but was upheld by the strength of July in New York, which proved to be used to sustain the markets. Montgomery, Ala., said: "All of the bulls are disposed to be encouraging up and the outlook is more favorable than the general situation in the belt. The replanted crop is a little later than normal, but with good weather can recover the recent set-back." New York July showed strength at the close of Liverpool, causing a general rally in prices. October closed unchanged at 11.17 on covering by disappointed smaller shorts.

Mr. Lyons and his wife were en route from Chicago to Augusta and the valuables were in a purse in their sleeping berth.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET WAS DULL BUT HIGHER

Union Pacific, Reading, Steel, Petroleum Stocks, Can and St. Paul Led

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 19.—Irregularly prices of stocks today disclosed irregular changes. A majority of the leaders began the session fractionally higher, but in the first few minutes of trading eased off. Rock Island common and preferred and St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred made new low records for the year. The upper shares were heavy.

Reactionary tendencies of the market dealers did not amount to much, buying orders appearing after fluctuations reached half a point or so. Liquidation of low priced stocks was unchecked. St. Louis and SanFrancisco second preferred slumped 4 points to 13¾.

Aside from weakness of St. Louis and San Francisco and other low priced railroad stocks put the general market to a test, under which it showed considerable resistance. Southern Pacific, St Louis and San Francisco common and second preferred were among the active stocks, each one of which raised the general level for the important stocks at the time of the close.

Bonds irregular.

Lower priced stocks made partial recovery of their fall and although some bullish support generally was apathetic, about the only feature was the buying of the more prominent shares on reactions.

Bears were unable to create much easiness by a sharp decline of some of the weaker issues and their failure to influence the speculative market aroused covering which raised the general level for the important stocks at the time of

UNION SEMINARY FIGHT UP MONDAY AFTERNOON

Northern Assembly Will Have Three Reports From Special Committee

The most important matter to come before the Northern Presbyterian (U. S. A.) assembly Monday is the report of the special committee on Union Theological seminary. The committee was appointed to canvass the question of re-establishing relations between the seminary and the assembly.

The committee is divided, there being a majority and two minority reports before the assembly. On the points of difference between these reports hinges the policy of the assembly concerning fundamental Presbyterian doctrine.

Union Theological seminary, which is in New York, was founded in 1836 as a Prebyterian institution. It continued as such until twenty years ago, when there came a split between the seminary and the assembly because of the "lax theology" being taught in the seminary.

The substance of the majority report of the committee is as follows:

THE MAJORITY REPORT.

That the committee suggested to the board of directors of the seminary the establishment for Presbyterian ministerial students of two professorships on the doctrinal system, the government and discipline, the history and organization and the executive agencnies and activities of the Presbyterian church; that the directors replied they could not, for lack of funds, establish the professorships, but would be glad to provide special lectures; and that the committee, believing the negotiations will finally lead to a basis of reunion satisfactory to the assembly, recommend the continuance of the committee.

Minority report No. 1, signed by John R. Davies, D. D., and Elisha H. Perkins, is in substance as follows:

That the proposal of the seminary directors to provide a lecturer, or lecturers, on Presbyterian doctrine and polity "falls far short of adequately meeting the needs of the situation from the assembly's standpoint;" that the directors have not stated with sufficient fullness their position on the fundamental doctrinal beliefs of the Presbyterian church; and that after long consideration they consider that the restoration of relations between the seminary and the assembly on the basis of teh standards of the Presbyterian church is impossible; and therefore they recommend that the committee be discharged.

ANOTHER MINORITY REPORT.

Minority report No. 2, which is signed by F. C. Monfort, D. D., is in substance as follows:

That he believes the proposal of the directors to provide lecturers is "only less satisfactory" than the proposal of the committee for one or more professorships to be established.

"The appointment of one or two men," says Dr. Monfort, "whether as professors or lecturers, to teach the doctrines of the Confession, while other professors in the institution antagonize the Confession, would not be a compliance with the provisions of the constitution upon which the seminary was founded. Neither would it satisfy the church that Union seminary is a safe place for Presbyterian students. Our seminaries are not debating societies for controversy over all systems of theology, but schools for instruction in our own theology, and this theology should not be taught by some professors who believe and others who do not believe it, but nly by tohse who accept it scon amore."

Concerning the seminary's theology, Dr. Monfort says:

RADICAL DIFFERENCES.

"A theology which denies the supernatural; that regards sin not as the result of an 'abrupt transformation' or the fall, but as 'the survival of the animal in man,' and salvation 'not as an act' but as 'a process rooted as sin is, in the nature of man,' that regards Christ 'not as God and man' but as 'God in man' and 'a type to which all men are ultimately destined to conform,' and which acknowledges as man's supreme authority 'not the scriptures, but the light that is in him,' is not the theology of the Westminster Confession nor of the Presbyterian church."

Dr. Monfort's report, which is by far the lengthiest of all submitted, goes into the history of the seminary in detail, for the purpose of showing that it is not an independent institution, but that its constitution first adopted and still in force makes it distinctly and permanently a Presbyterian seminary, conforming to the Westminster Confession.

The report further insists that the voluntary statement by the seminary directors of their doctrinal beliefs should not be received without comment, but that the assembly should make a reply to the same.

A BIG FIGHT HERE.

In conclusion, he recommends that the assembly adopt a resolution to the effect that "all of the presbyteries within our bounds shall always take care not to admit any candidate for the ministry into the exercise of the sacred function unless he declares his agreement in opinion with all the essential and necessary articles of the Westminster Confession."

On this latter point hinges one of the big fights in the assembly, as the New York presbytery has licensed graduates of Union seminary to preach.

As Dr. Monfort says in his report, "This question of the New York presbytery affects not one presbytery alone, but the whole church, as the New York presbytery's ordination is the door for Union students not only to its ministry, but to the ministry of the whole church."

The Union seminary matter is on the docket for the Monday afternoon session of the assembly.

On the morning docket are the reports of the following committees:

Bills and overtures, which reports every morning; standing committee on ministerial relief, special committee on intermediate catechism, and standing committee on education.

and orphans of Presbyterian preachers.

In the course of his remarks he declared that the "yellow candle of the world's condemnation will flame into the church's doom," unless the church, in the name of humanity, justice and Christ, pensions the men who have spent their lives in her service. Rev. Thornton Whaling brought greetings from the Southern assembly. He spoke with polished southern eloquence and was warmly applauded when he expressed the hope of an organic reunion between the northern and southern churches. At the close of his speech the assembly rose and sang a verse of "The Church's One Foundation Is Jesus Christ, Our Lord."

INTERMEDIATE CATECHISM.

The report of the committee on intermediate catechism, which came next, was presented by David S. Schapf, chairman, and by William McKibbin. They consumed upwards of thirty minutes, going into the catechism in detail, and emphasizing the claim that the catechism has been indorsed with practical unanimity by the church at large.

Immediately upon conclusion of these speeches, and when the adoption of the catechism was opened for discussion, Rev. R. M. Gammell, pastor of Ivyland church, North Philadelphia, attacked the catechism.

He said it begins with man, instead of God, and "ended nowhere."

He said it is "intermediate between naturalism and supernaturalism," when it ought to be intermediate between the child's catechism and the shorter catechism. He said it is very meager in its doctrine of the Holy Ghost, weak in its doctrine of the atonement, confused in its doctrine of sin, and silent on the doctrine of the resurrection of the body, and deficient in its doctrine of inspiration.

ALREADY APPROVED.

As a matter of fact, the catechism was approved by the assembly at the 1912 session, being sent back to the committee only for the addition of proof texts, so that the catechism was not put to a vote of approval again. The assembly ordered the catechism printed and distributed by the board of publication, and on this question Mr. Gammill voted no, his being the only voice raised to the contrary.

At 12:30 the assembly took a recess until 2:30 p. m. Monday.

The Georgia Auto Tops will give an ice cream festival Tuesday, May 20, at 8 p. m. The public is cordially invited and a good time will be in store for all who attend. Take river car and get off at Ellenwood. We'll expect you.

and complete justice for all men in all stations of life, for the protection of the family by the single standard of purity, uniform divorce laws, proper regulation of marriage and proper housing; for the abolition of child labor; for such regulations of the conditions of toil for women as shall safeguard the physical and moral health of the community; for the protection of the individual and society from the social, economic and moral waste of the liquor traffic; for suitable provision for the old age of workers and for those incapacitated by injury; for the principle of conciliation and arbitration in industrial disputes; for a release from employment one day in seven and for the most equitable division of the product of industry that can ultimately be devised."

The special committee on reform submitting this report was composed of Rev. S. K. Jamieson, Rev. S. A. McCollom, Rev. R. M. McCracken, Joseph Brownlee and Peter Brotherton.

Fraternal greetings were extended the assembly by Dr. Charles Park, of Pittsburg, representing the Reformed church in America, and Rev. I. M. Kennedy, of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church.

STATISTICS CREDITABLE.

The special report of the committee on statistics showed that there are now 1,144 United Presbyterian ministers, being ten less than the year before; eighty-eight students of theology, ten less than the year before; thirty-two ministers deceased, with thirty-three new ministers licensed.

The membership of the church was given as 183,305, an increase of 5,704. There were added by profession 13,146, being thirty-seven less than last year, which, said the report, "shows a need of more earnest and efficient work in evangelism."

The statistics showed an increase of $159,990 in contributions to the boards of the church. The average contribution for all purposes per member was $20.97, an increase during the year of $2.19 a member. The committee attributed this increase to the "every member canvass" of the Laymen's Missionary Movement.

"Taking it all together," the report said, "the church need not be ashamed of the year's work."

LIQUOR ROOT OF EVIL.

The committee on industrial conditions declared its "solemn conviction that the liquor problem is so involved with evil industrial and social conditions that if its manufacture and sale were absolutely prohibited all industrial and social problems could be solved in the next four or five decades."

The assembly heard an address by Rev. H. H. Marlin, of Pittsburg, chairman of the committee, and adopted the following recommendations of the committee:

"That Labor day be observed in all churches and special services preached; that the report of the federal council of the churches of Christ in America be adopted; that the church papers conduct departments for the discussion of social service and labor problems; that the general assembly secure someone each year to address its members on topics vital to social and economic progress; that a social service committee be appointed to co-operate with committees of similar conditions from other religious bodies; that synods give a place on their programs to themes dealing with industrial conditions; that employes everywhere be called on to observe the Sabbath; that the board of home missions be given supervision of the work relating to social service and industrial conditions; that the board of home missions give a place on the program of home mission week to study of social service and industrial conditions.

DEBATE OVER HERALD.

When the report of the committee on publication came up for final disposition the assembly engaged in sharp debate for half an hour over the Christian Union Herald, a weekly organ of the church.

It was charged that without the authority of the assembly the subscription price of the paper had been increased from 50 to 60 cents a year.

The publication committee had recommended that this publication be devoted in the future entirely to the interests of the young people and over these two points a spirited discussion arose.

It was decided finally that in the future the Christian Union Herald shall be published entirely in the interest of the young people, the young peoples' societies and the Sabbath schools of our denomination at a cost as consistent as possible with the highest efficiency and economy.

This will be the only exclusively young people's publication of the United Presbyterian church.

With the exception of providing for the paper for the young people, no change was made before the adoption of the publication committee's report, which sharply criticised the work of the board of publication.

ATLANTA'S "OLD GUARD" AWAY ON PEACE TOUR

Noted Local Military Organization Left for East Monday Morning

At 11 o'clock Monday morning the Old Guard of the Gate City Guard rolled away into the north—this time certain of its welcome. It was bent upon another tour of fellowship. Among its company were some who made thirty-four years ago the original trip, which helped so vastly toward welding the nation into one again that the Gate City Guard attained even more fame in peace than it had attained a few years earlier in war.

Today, as then, Joseph F. Burke is in command of its company.

Today, as then, its mission is peace and good will. In a measure, too, it is acknowledging the courtesy which other famous military organizations of the country paid to it a couple of years ago when they came to Atlanta to honor the Old Guard's peace monument unveiling. It could not hope to return the call upon all of them, so it is visiting a few.

From now until June 3 the Old Guard of the Gate City Guard will be away upon its jaunt. For some three weeks it will be busy at the exchanging of compliments with the elite among military companies of the east. It will go by rail and return by boat to Savannah, coming thence home.

Its itinerary has been laid out to the hour almost, and the indications are that the program in each city where it will visit has been arranged to a gnat's heel, too. Official welcome will be extended by mayors and others of city governments.

ROUND OF FESTIVITIES.

In Washington, their first stop, the Old Guard will be met by the surviving members of the Washington Light Infantry, which met it in the same city on its former tour years ago. The Light Infantry will be its escort on parade to the White House, where President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson will greet its members, and where the Old Guard will present to Mrs. Wilson some fresh roses from her old home in Rome, Ga. The Old Guard will review a special drill of the United States troops at Fort Myer, and will be honored by a special concert of the marine band, and many festivities and much entertainment will follow.

In Baltimore, the next stop, the Fifth Maryland regiment will be the Old Guard's hosts. In New York, they will be welcomed by the Old Guard of New York and other organizations. In Philadelphia the State Fencibles will entertain them. In Boston, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery and the Boston Tigers will be their hosts. In Hartford the famed old Hartford Phalanx will accord them welcome.

Shortly after 10 o'clock Monday morning the Old Guard, fine and dandy in the smartest of uniforms, assembled at the Piedmont hotel and marched to the Terminal station. In it were some of the most prominent men in Atlanta. Several of the members will be accompanied by their wives throughout the trip.

THOSE WHO WENT.

Following were those who were enrolled to go upon the tour:

Officers—Colonel J. F. Burke, Captain and Quartermaster Pelling H. Jones, Captain and Commander A. McD. Wilson.

Staff—Captain W. M. Crumley and Dr. E. L. Connally.

First company—First Lieutenant Chas. P. Byrd and Second Lieutenant John W. Murrell.

Second company—Captain F. J. Cooledge, First Lieutenant R. F. Clarke, and Second Lieutenant A. H. Davis.

Non-commissioned line officers—First sergeant, First company, W. E. Hancock; first sergeant, Second company, Harrison Jones; second sergeant, First company, W. O. Wilson, and second sergeant, Second company, F. M. Berry.

Privates—W. A. Austell, A. M. Bancker, H. Bleckley, H. C. Beerman, H. M. Beutell, J. H. Buesse, W. M. Camp, P. B. Green, C. J. Gavan, Dr. W. A. Graham, Henry H. Hirsch, W. A. Haygood, W. L. Hancock, George Harrington, Lucien L. Harris, Jr., W. S. Lounsbury, W. V. McMillen, Samuel Meyer, Jr., G. H. Morrow, Thomas H. Pitts, W. M. Stephenson, H. F. Scott, J. R. Smith, C. C. Thomas, M. L. Thrower, Ed L. Wight, Herbert L. Wiggs, W. S. Witham, A. J. West, W. Woods White, C. E. Winn and G. H. Yancey, Jr.

How a Business Leader Views Business Conditions.

"There is no threatening cloud in the business atmosphere of the United States."

These are the words of James J. Hill, known throughout America for his discernment and leadership in large affairs. In an interview recently published in the Washington Post, Mr. Hill presents a remarkable array of facts, showing the sweep and soundness of the nation's prosperity. He dwells upon the progress of agriculture and the expansion of industries; the one, he declares, is being quickened by scientific methods of farming and the other encouraged and rendered more profitable by efficient methods of production. The demand for farm labor continues to grow and our systems of transportation are taxed to the utmost to meet increasing traffic needs. It is not so much the specific facts he mentions, however, as the conclusions which he, a trained and cool observer of business prospects, has reached that is significant. The Post aptly remarks:

"To our financiers, our manufacturers, our merchants, to business men of every class and to the general public, the words of Mr. Hill should be of infinite value and afford them much satisfaction."

The truth is there is no echo of business apprehension today save that which comes from inspired sources. The rank and file of the people, whatever their field of occupation may be, are moving steadily forward in a spirit of confidence and cheer. The forthcoming reduction of the tariff and other laws designed to make our economic life more free and stable are interpreted in their true purpose and measured by their logical consequence. What few calamity howlers there are find as little response as reason for their sour temper.

Continuing our vein of optimism, we predict that the peach crop will be 100 per cent.

Prof. Taft may be depended on not to do anything radical at Yale, such as changing the Yale yell.

The nations need have no worry. The London Times has expressed itself on the Japanese question.

News items say the weather on Sunday was warm and dry, and a considerable portion of the population can vouch for the accuracy of that item.

The Tariff Bill Moves Forward in the Senate.

The defeat of the Republican amendment, seeking to reopen public hearings on the tariff bill now before the Senate, is a happy omen for the progress and the ultimate triumph of this important administration measure. The vote in this instance goes to show that though the issue is closely drawn, the majority of the Senate Democrats are standing stanchly by the President and by their party's faith. Only two Democrats, the Senators from Louisiana, voted with the Republicans, and their defection is easily explained. It has never been expected that they would support a bill which provides for an immediate reduction and the future removal of duties on sugar.

The effort to reopen hearings before the finance committee of the Senate was unwarranted by common sense or fair play. The ways and means committee of the House spent long weeks in listening to all interests that had any claims or suggestions to present. Protests, based upon new evidence, may very properly be submitted, but there is no need or occasion for repeating in tedious detail work that has already been thoroughly done in the House; and it was the transparent purpose of those who insisted upon rehearings simply to delay the progress of the tariff bill.

The vote on this particular question may be regarded as an indication of what the final line-up will be. The fact that it stood forty-one to thirty-six shows that the balance of Progressive Democratic power, though none too strong, is sufficient to carry the measure through, if the party ranks remain loyal. That this will be the case, there is little reason to doubt; for, though the administration bill is opposed by particular interests, it is supported by the people as a whole.

The English-Commercial High School Vital Need.

If there is one particular need above all others which the finance committee of Council should consider in making up the June apportionment sheet, it is that of a safe and commodious building for the Girls' English Commercial High School.

This institution, which plays so vital a part in Atlanta's educational life, is now quartered in flimsy wooden buildings that are not only inadequate to care for the school's increasing enrollment, but are also a menace to the safety of the students. Indeed, these conditions are such that Council can ill afford to take the responsibility of what might happen, if they are permitted to continue. The school is held in three separate houses which were designed as dwellings for families of average size and which are entirely without those safeguards that should be provided for a public institution. Should a fire or a panic break out in the . . . quarters of this school, the result might be unspeakably terrible.

But aside from dan. . . these makeshift houses are wholly inadequate to meet the school's growth. It is conservatively reckoned that unless larger quarters are provided, the school will have to turn away at the opening of its next term between seventy-five and a hundred young women. Surely, Council and the finance committee will not suffer such an injustice to the city's homes and its highest interests!

The English Commercial High School has grown wondrously since its establishment a few years ago. Its attendance has shown the insistent and widespread demand for just such practical and constructive education as it affords; and the brilliant success of its graduates shows the character of the work it is doing.

Such an institution should not be stinted; certainly it should not be denied its right to a safe and suitable building of its own. It should be encouraged in every possible way and should be supported as liberally as the city's means will permit. It is as unbusinesslike as unfair to continue to cramp this school in outworn houses which the city does not own and on which it may not be able to renew its present lease. In the course of a few years, the rental paid for these makeshift quarters would suffice to build a handsome and suitable structure.

There is this further and important fact to be considered: Last year thirty thousand dollars was appropriated for an English Commerical High School building, but later it was withdrawn partly because of the city's financial stringency and partly, too, because it was realized that that amount would not be sufficient to provide a fire-proof building, the only kind that should be erected. In January, the school was promised a reapportionment of this amount plus an additional sum. It is the clear duty of the finance committee to provide for this urgent need.

The Peace Centennial.

Divers plans are being made both in Great Britain and America for a worthy commemoration of the hundred years of peace that will soon have forged their golden ties between the two great families of English speaking people. Such a centennial certainly demands due and hearty observance, for it is more eloquent in its meaning and more fruitful in its results than any battle which might have broken its concord. Furthermore, it is a goodly omen of perpetual friendship; as Mr. Carnegie recently said, "It is a peace that is likely to endure through all the centuries to come."

Among the more formal programs to be carried out in this connection is that which looks to the erection of two monuments described by the New York Times as "identical in design, one at Washington and one at London; the cornerstones will be laid at the same moment by the President of the United States and the King, with a brief cessation of all business simultaneously in both countries."

It is also suggested that Niagara river be spanned with a memorial bridge and that the Dominion and the States be similarly linked at other points. Tablets will doubtless be erected at various historic spots in America and England and on the day set aside for the commemoration patriotic meetings will be held in both countries.

The most vital of all witnesses to these hundred years of peace are the hearts of the English and the American people themselves, who are one today in sympathy with the ideals and in loyalty to the high mission of the great stock from which they both are sprung.

THE INCOME TAX

XII. THE TAX IN ENGLAND.

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Nowhere else in the world is there afforded a better picture of the operation of the income tax than in England. In its present general shape it has been levied for a period of nearly three-quarters of a century, and during that time the natural objections to such a tax have been on the wane until it has now become a part of the permanent fiscal policy of the United Kingdom. The tax is now levied on incomes aggregating nearly $9,000,000,000. There are those who complain about it and inveigh against it, some going as far as to say that it is the most humiliating tax ever put upon a generous nation, others that it possesses a maze of averages and bases of calculation that make it a sealed book to any lay mind and still others who assert that there is infrequently anything about its administration that is creditable and often much that is tyrannical. But the general verdict seems to be that the tax is a necessary evil and about as satisfactory as one could reasonably expect.

Perhaps the most influential element in freeing it from general complaint is the fact that the original assessment of the tax is made by non-salaried representatives of the local gentry. The people have confidence in these men, and feel that they are, in a sense, their own representatives. They are largely circumscribed as to their duties, and their work is carefully checked up by the representatives of the British treasury. This combination of centralization and local rule prevents any charges of bureaucracy on the one hand and any loss of revenue by assessments made too low on the other.

By utilizing a happy system of choosing what are known as additional commissioners from the ranks of the business community for the purpose of assisting in the assessment of the tax, the co-operation of the business community is secured, and but little trouble is experienced in securing proper assessment of business incomes. Another striking phase of the administration of the British income tax laws is the absence of inquisitorial procedure. The British authorities steer a middle course between the laxity that makes a law more honored in its breach than in its observance, on the one hand; and the rigidity of enforcement that defeats its own purpose, on the other. The British authorities aim to collect all possible income taxes at their source rather than to allow them to go into the hands of the taxpayer and be accounted for by him. For instance, here is a man who has an income of 10,000 pounds which comes as dividend earnings in some utility corporation; the government's share of that income is deducted from the payments before they are made. That is taxation at the source, and it seems to bear down more easily upon the taxpayer than if he had to reach down in his pocket and pay it.

The British government has kept the tax down to about 6 per cent, and most British citizens are represented as willing to pay a shilling a pound on their income. The British income tax laws of today do not burden all classes of income alike. They assume that not every sort of income is equally well able to bear the same burden of taxation, so there has come about a system of differentiation which meets these objections, imposing the heaviest taxes upon those incomes most able to bear them, and the lightest taxes upon those incomes least able to meet them. As it became evident that great incomes were being built up it began to be generally felt that the man with a 10,000 pound income was able to pay a higher rate than the man with 500 pound income, and so the supertax was brought in. Thus has England gone forward grafting onto the old tree all the new branches that progress demanded, until today her income tax laws meet English conditions and adjust the burdens of taxation in a generally satisfactory way.

It is interesting to follow the present high development of the income tax system in England during the past quarter of a century, or since it became a permanent national policy. Before that time there had been a constant improvement in methods of administration as a result of an unremitting effort to correct all unsatisfactory conditions, but the great improvements perhaps date from the early 90's. At that time there arose a demand for a graduation of incomes, a demand rather general, resisted by statesmen. One step after another in the improvement of the law was taken, some affording abatements on small incomes, others having to do with fraud, savings bank accounts, and the like, until finally, in 1907 Chancellor Asquith came out flatfootedly for a system of differentiation. He compared two men, each with an income of 2,000 pounds, the one deriving his from a a perfectly safe investment and the other from a precarious profession and declared that to say that each should pay the same tax was to fly into the face of justice and common sense. He thought that incomes ought to be divided into two classes, earned and unearned incomes, the one representing the personal labor of the taxpayer and the other a simple sitting still and allowing the money to come in.

• • •

With the necessity of securing additional revenues to finance the old age pensions scheme before them, the British authorities were forced to consider a plan of income tax graduation in the shape of a levy of a higher rate upon all incomes in excess of 5,000 pounds. This is assessed in the shape of a supertax of 6 pence per pound. Since this system of graduation has been adopted the rates of taxation vary with the ability of the persons taxed to pay. In the first place, any Britisher with an income of less than 160 pounds has his tax abated. Those who have incomes up to 500 pounds are entitled to a small rebate on account of their children below the age of sixteen. Those who have earned incomes up to 2,000 pounds pay 8 pence per pound on their incomes, and those who get 2,000 pounds a year pay a shilling a pound. All unearned incomes pay a shilling. 2 pence a pound up to 5,000 pounds a year. Those who reach and exceed that limit must pay a supertax of 6 pence on every pound of income they have in excess of 3,000 pounds. All persons having an income between the point of exemption, which is placed at 160 pounds, and 700 pounds, get certain abatements, so that the tax increases as the income rises between these two points.

THE DIARY OF OUR OWN SAMUEL PEPYS.

May 14.—To my office betimes and all the morning at petty business and thence home to luncheon of eggs and bacon and asparagus and apple-sauce and two cups of coffee, which was Gretchen's fault, for when I do ask her for one cup, she breweth ever four or five cups, recking not of the cost of such things, poor wretch, nor have I heart to chide her for her folly. With Mr. Crusenberry the Chicago scrivener to the tennis-court, and played 4 setts, but he unlucky and out of practice, so I did defeat him. Mr. Kelton told me how that Mr. Upton Sinclair would play with me and lower my pride and I told K. when it pleaseth him soever. To the ballpark with Mistress Heloise and we made a wager, a tye against a hat-pinne, on the game. I did wager that the Cubs would win and she the Giants and we did see the wildest game ever I saw, and much bad playing, such as I like to see, by both teams. But the Giants did win by 14 runs to 11, and I must remember to buy H. a hat-pinne. Home to dinner, where are come C. Galge and Mistress Hilda, and thenafter in C.'s new petroleum-wag*gon all to Coney Island, the first time ever I was* there, and Hilda and I did ride upon all the perilous railways together and I enjoyed it, too, but I believe them dangerous and silly, and would fain have them done away with by law. H. did have her palm read, and the palmist thought me her husband.

15.—News to-day of the conviction of Quinlan in Paterson, which methought unjust, but I do feel out of sympathy with his organization. I fear there may be dire things to happen in this land or ever another ten years be sped. To the ballpark and met there Mont Glass the tayle-writer and did walk home with him and he shewed me his new harpsichord. That, quoth he, or a petroleum-waggon; and a harpsichord hath no blowouts, nor doth it run into children. Which was true talk. Home for dinner and thereafter to my scrivening, but all the evening my new neighbor played upon the spinet songs and melodies, horrid ones, but well played, and I had liefer to listen than to work, so I did listen untill my bedtime, which is early. Read this night a new fable of Mr. Ade's, full of brightness, in especiall where he saith, There is always room and board at the top.

Decisive Battles

The present celebration of the sixteenth centenary of the conversion of Constantine leads to some literary reflections:

"Creasy's "Fifteen Decisive Battles" seems to resemble the various best lists of authors we read of from time to time—they always arouse criticism by some serious omission. It will be recalled that the "Five Foot Shelf" of what, in a great educator's mind, were the best imaginable books in English was found deficient in that it omitted both the Bible and Shakespeare. A few inches added to the shelf would have been a good thing in the minds of many.

The "Fifteen Battles" would have been quite as euphonious had it been called the "Sixteen" and had it included the battle of the Milvian Bridge in 312 A. D., where tradition declares that Constantine saw in the heavens the luminous cross which bade him conquer "In This Sign." Surely the giving of Europe and eventually America to Christianity was, to say the least, quite as important as the battles which saved Europe from Persian despotism or the later one which gave western Europe to Latin rather than Greek supremacy, or any other named in the book. However great the consequences of others, none exceeded this in its results. Sins of omission are as bad as those of commission.—From a Letter in the New York Times.

WHAT TO DO

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

(Copyright, 1913, by Frank Crane.)

A very great and wise man came to America. His fame was such that all the nation believed that to follow his advice in anything would bring success.

So all the legislatures of all the states elected representatives to meet at Washington and ask him what to do.

When they had gathered together he asked them, "What do you want most?"

They answered, "To get rid of crime and criminals, to stop the social evil, to abolish our slums, to clean our states and cities of poverty."

"Very well," he replied. "It will take thirty-three years, or one generation, but if you will faithfully do as I say you will certainly succeed."

Whereupon there was loud applause and exulting; and they said: "Tell us what to do, and upon our lives and honor we will most surely do it."

"I will tell you a week from today," he responded.

This he said in order that the enthusiasts who had ideas of reforming the people might make their suggestions.

And they came to him post haste, all sorts. Preachers and priests came, saying they hoped he would say to give more money to churches and have grand revivals and get everybody converted. All kinds of political and economical apostles besieged him; single taxers, Socialists, anarchists, progressives and prohibitionists, and all had their say.

But upon the set day he arose before the delegates and said:

"All the plans you have proposed to me have their good points, but all have a fatal weak spot, which is that they deal with ADULTS.

"I do not propose to bother with them. They will all be dead anyhow in a few years. Besides, what you do with one adult crop of people must be done anew with the next. It is a fool way of trying to improve the race. Hence, go on as you are now doing. It is the best you know and will last your time. Sixty years from now, when your children and grandchildren are at the helm of things, all your reform programs will fade away useless.

"This is what to do: First, enlarge your public school system until it provides for the free education and ECONOMIC SUPPORT of all the population under twenty.

"Second, to raise money for this cause the state to be an equal partner in every concern or with every individual who has a hundred thousand dollars, one-half the profits or income to go to the state to support its children.

"Third, so reform your public schools that the children therein shall be taught HOW TO LIVE; that is, first of all, moral character, including honesty, cleanliness, the value of truth, and of courage to tell and live the truth.

"Train them in politics. Let the schools be as democratic as the nation. Do not govern the children. Teach them how to govern themselves. Let it be ground into every girl and boy that it is disgraceful not to take an active part in the organization of the ward, city, state and nation.

"Just pay due attention to one generation of children and it will save you a hundred years' labor with adults."

This plan being so simple the delegates felt their intelligence insulted and said: "What! And did we come here to be told about children?" Also the reformers and institution-job-holders cried out upon him. The upshot of it all was that they seized the man and threw him into a madhouse.

TRAGIC TALE.

Oh, list to the tale of a lover's woes—
This tragic, as you shall see—
The hopeless love for a rubber rose
Of a wandering honey bee!

The bee was busy at this and that—
Such things as bees often do—
When suddenly on a woman's hat
The rose came into view.

Said the smitten bee: "Oh, lovely bloom!
There's honey within your heart;
Behold, I'm a chemist bee, than whom
None better is at his art!"

Then he sank his face in the flower's breast—
Then hastily he backed out,
And his legs to his fevered brow he pressed
In an agony of doubt.

"I am sure you look like a rose," he said;
"Oh, rare and beautiful liar!
But your odor gives me an aching head
And you taste like a motor tire!"

Then sadly himself on a leaf he laid
And gave up the ghost with a sob.
As he said: "Here's the end of the honey trade—
The styles have destroyed my job!"

STRIPLING CASE CLOSED, IS GOV. BROWN'S FINALE

Two Years on Life Sentence Doesn't Open Way for Clemency

At no time during the remaining few weeks of his administration will Governor Brown entertain or consider another application for the pardon of Thomas Edgar Stripling, the former chief of police of Danville, Va., who is serving a life sentence at the state farm near Milledgeville for the murder committed in Heard county, Georgia, sixteen years ago.

The governor made his position on this matter very clear Monday morning, and he was prompted to do so because he had noticed in several of the state papers news stories to the effect that Stripling's attorneys are preparing to petition for a reopening of the Stripling pardon case.

Following his conviction and life sentence, Stripling escaped from the Heard county jail. Fourteen years later he was located at Danville, Va., where he was the chief of police and a respected citizen, having adopted an assumed name. He was brought back to Georgia and a strong effort was made to obtain a pardon for him on the ground that he had lived an upright life since his escape.

Governor Brown, to whom the application for pardon was submitted early in 1911, declined to grant a pardon, although powerful pressure was brought to bear upon him from all parts of the state and a tremendous sentiment in Stripling's favor was created.

Commenting upon the case Monday morning, Governor Brown declared that Stripling had only served two years of a life sentence, that he was convicted of having committed a midnight assassination, it being charged that he shot a man through the window of his (the victim's) own home.

"Two years is not sufficient punishment for such a crime, even though there were extenuating circumstances and there was a disposition on the part of the state to change the life sentence to a definite term of years," said the governor. "It is not my purpose to reopen this case at all."

Stripling's wife and children are residing in Columbus, and it is said that they are in destitute circumstances. One of the younger children has died since Stripling has been in the penitentiary.

Fire in City Hall Almost Ignited Big Barrel of Kerosene

A fire which burned for five minutes in the basement of the city hall shortly before 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, was extinguished only a few minutes before it started to consume some valuable records and to ignite dangerously near a large barrel of kerosene oil.

The flames burned out a large cabinet in the stock room of the health department, where old records and fumigating paraphernalia are stored. The only thing destroyed was the cabinet and some blank stationery in it.

The fire was discovered by Councilman Claude Ashley as he entered the building about 1:45 o'clock and noticed waves of smoke filtering up the elevator shaft. City Clerk Walter Taylor was notified and immediately sent in an alarm. The prompt arrival of the fire engines resulted in extinguishing the blaze.

It is believed that the fire started from a lighted cigarette carelessly thrown down in the basement. Such was the opinion of various city hall officials, and it is so marked on the fire department's record.

MOODY BREAKS LEG IN FALL FROM MOTORCYCLE

L. B. Moody, of 350 West Fourteenth street, said to be an employe of the Atlanta Steel works, plunged over an embankment on the Roswell road Sunday morning while riding a motorcycle, and broke his leg.

The accident happened about 11:45 o'clock Monday, it is said, was tearing down the road toward Roswell at a rather fast gait and lost control of his machine, which skidded into a ditch at the side of the road. He was hurled over the handle-bars down the bank.

H. M. Patterson's auto ambulance carried the wounded man to the Grady hospital.

THEATERS

ATLANTA—"The Deep Purple."
FORSYTH—Vaudeville.
BIJOU—Vaudeville and pictures.

Adam and Eve, trained monkeys, will be the headline feature at the Forsyth this week, though there are several other numbers on the program that are good.

The animals are owned and exhibited by Ed Gillette. He has shown Adam and Eve in all the principal cities. It is a novel and interesting act.

The other features on the bill are Gallagher and Fields, in farce comedy, "they will present a travesty on naval affairs, called "The Battle of Bay Rum." The action of the farce is supposed to take place aboard a man o' war. Josephine Dunfee, the singing comedienne, who has been identified with musical comedy and operatic successes, will be on the bill, and it is predicted that she is going to be one of the hits of the week. The return of Nevins and Erwood, after an absence of two years, will be a welcome event; and the Dunedin Troupe of cyclists will make a bid for popular favor. The Bradshaw Brothers and John Geiger, the man with the talking violin, make up the bill.

There are daily bargain matinee performances at the Forsyth.

Miss Billy Long and her associates in the fine stock company at the Atlanta celebrate the beginning of their fifth week at the new playhouse by presenting the strongest drama of recent years, "The Deep Purple," opening with a matinée this afternoon. The company has won a strong hold on the Atlanta public and a new record for attendance is expected this week. "The Deep Purple" is the first of the "crook" plays, and the best of the number. It made a tremendous hit in Chicago and New York and is being greeted with enthusiasm by stock company patrons all over America this summer. It has never been seen in Atlanta at any price.

The matinee this afternoon promises to be the biggest Monday afternoon performance ever given at the Atlanta. Box parties and orchestra parties galore have been planned. Other 25 cents matinees will be given Wednesday and Saturday. On the latter day a stage reception will be given by members of the company following the performance. These receptions have been received with great favor, and the Atlanta management has been overwhelmed with congratulations because of the fact.

"A Trip to Joyville" is offered by the Bijou for the coming week. According to people who have seen the show, it is the best musical tabloid that has been put on the circuit.

"A Trip to Joyville" begins at the Bijou Monday afternoon, and other sections of the train leave twice nightly and every other afternoon of the week.

The show is said to be the most amusing production of its kind. There is a cast of capable principals, including players of New York reputation, and a chorus of boys and girls who dance and sing their way into every one's affections. The first act shows the Joyville railroad station. The second act is devoted to the specialty of Warner and White, "The Dancing Beau Brummels." The third act shows the Joyville cabaret, and this provides opportunity for fun galore. Fidello, violin player, is with "A Trip to Joyville," and his specialty will be introduced at every performance during the week.

NEGRO CHARGED WITH ROBBING EXPRESS OFFICE

John Reed, colored, was taken into custody Monday by local detectives following, it is said, a series of thefts from the Southern Express company. The total amount of property taken by the black is believed to total several hundred dollars.

Reed, who was employed as a driver, purloined several packages containing valuables during the past few weeks, it is alleged.

COUNCIL TO CONSIDER MAYOR'S VETO MESSAGES

Effort Will Be Made at Meeting Monday to Override Mayor Woodward

Mayor Woodward's two vetoes, one of the ordinance to muzzle dogs and the other in regard to the fire probe, will meet with opposition when they are transmitted Monday afternoon to council.

The consideration of these vetoes promises to make the session an active and interesting one.

The question of regrading Whitehall street will be considered, and the extent of the grade proposed will be recommended by the street committee.

Councilman Ahley will introduce a resolution to provide for a fund of $1,000 with which to entertain official visitors to Atlanta.

POLICE ARE WONDERING WHAT BAND WILL DO

Members of the police department, particularly those eligible to promotion, are wondering what will be the outcome of the deadlock of the police board over the appointment of a new sergeant to succeed K. S. Foster, recently deceased. A week ago after a spirited debate of an hour and a half, the commissioners adjourned, standing six to six on the question of whether or not Chief Beavers should recommend a man for the place.

The concensus of opinion is that the police head will lose prestige if he is not permitted to name the new sergeant. So far there has been no news of a waver on either side. From present indications the vacancy will not be filled until the next meeting of the police board, and only then if some member has "switched." The possibility of a special meeting being called to settle the question is also remote as it takes at least seven members to take this step.

GOVERNOR OFFERS REWARD FOR MARIETTA DYNAMITERS

Governor Brown Monday morning was notified by Sheriff W. E. Swanson and Ordinary J. M. Gann, of Cobb county, of the dynamiting of a negro tenant house on the farm of James T. Anderson, near Marietta, Sunday morning, following which the governor offered a reward of $150 for the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties.

Notices were sent out around Marietta several months ago warning all the colored people to leave. They were followed by the burnin gof a barn belonging to a white farmer, who allowed his negro tenants to stay on the place.

Lewis, the black whose house was dynamited, was one of the negroes who received warning to leave some time ago. He went away at the time, coming back about the first of April. Saturday night he and six other negroes were in the house, the six escaping, the very one, it seemed, whie hwas lucky enough to escape the explosion.

It is said that Pinkerton detectives are working on the case and have clews which will lead to the arrest of the dynamiters.

PALESTINE LODGE TO CONFER THIRD DEGREE

At the request of many of the visiting brethren, the Palestine lodge will confer the third degree in full uniform next Wednesday evening, and extends a cordial invitation to the visiting brethren at the Presbyterian general assembly to be present.

The ceermonies will begin promptly at 7 p. m., and will be exemplified in full dramatic form. To those who have not seen the degree conferred in this manner it will be a very interesting ceremony.

NO "MUTINY" IN TOWER SUNDAY; JAILERS DENY IT

Four Prisoners "Jawed" Each Other Until They Were Locked Up

There was no mutiny at the Fulton county Tower by the white prisoners on Saturday, as chronicled in a Sunday paper, declares Jailer Golden.

Mr. Golden, who is on duty from 7 a. m. until after 4 in the afternoon, says nothing whatever occurred in the jail to warrant any report of a mutiny of the prisoners. In the morning, he says, everything was as quiet as it could be. In the afternoon four white prisoners in one tier became boisterous in their talk with one another, he says, and to make them behave one of the jailers quietly made each return to his own private cell and be locked in. This was done without any resistance, whatever, says Jailer Golden. He further adds that there was nothing thrown, such as bottles, etc.

Another jailer, Wiley Roberts, whom the report allegrd to have been the cause of the "mutiny," has been in the employ of the county at the jail for four years. He was made a steward some

COLONEL BUTLER CONFERS WITH ADJUTANT GENERAL

Lieutenant Colonel John G. Butler, of the First regiment, national guard of Georgia, came to Atlanta from Savannah Monday morning to confer with Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash.

Militia affairs generally were dissussed at this conference, but particular attention was given to the rifle practice of the troops in the First regiment and the forthcoming annual encampment.

Rogers' New Bakery
Doing Big Business
Better-Bread Is Baked Fresh Every Day

Over 600 per cent increase in six weeks. Think of it. The first day we baked only 500 loaves of Better-Bread—Saturday we baked 3,300 loaves.

Now if that isn't a record to be proud of, what is? And if Better-Bread was not all we claimed for it; the cleanest, purest, best bread made in Atlanta, such a record as this would not have been possible.

We also make a specialty of the following as well as the now famous Better-Bread:

Better-Bread, single loaf	4c	Rye Bread	5c
Double Loaf	8c	Piedmont Sandwich Bread	10c
Piedmont Jelly Roll	10c	Pound Cake	20c

These Are Wash Goods That Women Want Right Now and They are Priced

There are signs of a crowd in the prices!

We have been going through the Wash Goods Department with a sharp eye for all stray lots—for, as the best housekeepers know, things will be overlooked, misplaced and forgotten in the best regulated households—and stores.

This is an instance.

Also this is an instance of the way Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. set things aright.

And, since these are the materials women want their summertime dresses, skirts and waists, and since qualities are just what you would expect here at the original prices, you may judge that the setting-aright will be quick.

At 29c French Piques, regularly 50c. They are 28 inches wide. Choose from about all colors and white, and white with dainty stripes. Also at this price are colored checked piques, and piques with a ratine stripe. These were 65c a yard.

At 29c Embroidered Mulls, regularly 65c; 32 inches wide; very soft quality, with small dots embroidered over their surfaces—all white; also colored striped French voiles with embroidered dots.

At 19c French Piques, regularly 35c, 28 inches wide, in colors, in plain white, and in white with colored stripes. A splendid material for dresses and skirts.

At 59c French Voiles, regularly 90c. As sheer and summery a fabric as ever the looms clacked off. In colors, daintily striped; with these are white batistes, embroidered in colors. Both 32 inches wide.

At 49c French Lingerie Cloth, regularly $1.50. Sure to go very, very quickly. White, embroidered in open-work patterns. 32 inches wide.

Tomorrow at Nine o'Clock
Two of the Most Value-Ful Sales We Have Announced This Spring

A Sale of Embroideries, A Sale of Silks

Tomorrow shall be a notable day; notable for the two sales that get underway here at nine o'clock.

A sale of embroideries, a sale of silks; both bringing values worthy of being cried from the housetops.

But still, crying them from the housetops or in the biggest, blackest type right here would not add a jot or tittle to these truly remarkable values.

We believe they are in themselves sufficient to interest you. You who know this store and know the quality and worth of merchandise here at regular prices will understand there is no need of words on such an occasion as this. Here are loud speaking actions.

The Embroideries

At 15c Regularly 25c to 75c a yard
Heavy linen bands and daintiest and sheerest Swiss bands in white and colors—an outclearing that will interest women with dresses and waists to trim and with children's clothes to make.

At 29c Regularly 50c to $1.00 a yard
A ruthless and unwarranted reduction here and therefore all the more remarkable. The lot is made up of all odd flouncings, allover embroideries and bands that were 50c to $1.00. You may know that it is a goodly group.

At 50c Regularly $1.00 to $1.50 a yard
Embroidery flouncings in 27-inch and 45-inch widths. All hand loom embroideries, some as sheer as you could wish—and the patterns—they are from our regular stock. All white.

At 75c Regularly $1.50 to $2.50 a yard
A lot made up of embroidery flouncings 27 inches to 45 inches wide and of allover embroideries. Among them are all white and colored embroideries—for dresses, for waists and for underwear. And the beautiful patterns that are here!

At $1.50 Regularly $3.00 to $4.50 a yard
Perhaps the choicest embroideries of the whole sale. 45-inch flouncings—the wonderfully woven, intricately patterned affairs that make into glorious summer dresses, commencement dresses and the like. Swiss and mull are the materials—eyelet and blind patterns, with these are embroidery bands that too were $3.00 to $4.50 a yard.

At $1.50 Regularly $3.00 to $4.50 a yard
Linen flouncings 45 inches wide with bands to match—a very remarkable choice of patterns and of colors—choose from light blue, pink, lavender, gray and white.

The Silks

At 39c Silks Regularly 59c
Kimono silks 31 inches wide, tans, browns, navy, light blue, red. Big floral patterns and neat conventional patterns.

At 59c Foulards Regularly 85c and $1.00
And they are shower proof foulards, 23 inches wide, choicest patterns in wanted shades, navy and copenhagen, navy and white, black and white and others and others, including dainty stripes.

At 69c Silk Shirtings Regularly 85c
And right at the time when silk shirts are most popular. These are 33 inches wide. All white and white with black, navy, brown and heliotrope stripes. A beautiful quality, all silk.

And Furthermore, Tomorrow Will Be

Silk Remnant Day

And Silk Remnant Day of itself is always an event at Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co's. Because reductions are real and great, because our sole end is to clear the stock of short lengths—let prices fall where they will.

Mrs. Harris' New Book

Mrs. Lundy Harris has many friends and admirers who will be interested to learn that, although she expects to make her home in Georgia, she will spend her winters in Nashville. Mrs. Harris has acquired 200 acres of beautiful meadow and forest land in the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains, sixteen miles from Cartersville. In June she will go there with her architect and begin work on the house, and she plans to do all her literary work there in this green cup in the midst of the hills.

Mrs. Harris has just returned from an interesting stay of three weeks in New York and Philadelphia, where she has a host of friends. Her new story, "In Search of a Husband," will run serially in the Saturday Evening Post, beginning this summer. The illustrations will be done by Mr. Foster.

Mr. Lorrimer of the Post regards this story as the best work ever done by Mrs. Harris, and the literary world is looking forward with keen interest to its appearance. The hero in teh story is David Brock and the heroine is Mary Joy Marr, and we can take it on good authority that she is a "nice" girl in spite of her quiet. There is no villain in the story, but there is a villainess, to throw Mary Joy in strong relief. The scenes are laid in a southern city, but, according to the heroine, "The scenes are laid in my own heart, where every man and every woman is an outrageous egotist."—The Lookout.

Chinese Courtesy to Writers

Editorial ingenuity has been taxed since the earliest days of periodicals to formulate a letter accompanying returned manuscripts which would soften the rejection and explain the feelings of the editor. The contributor will not interpret the words "not available," as aught else but objection, in spite of the fact that there is no space for a thousand little reasons that cannot be recited with each manuscript in explanation. From the Chinese we can learn much in editorial diplomacy. One letter but by a Chinese editor in the graphic characters of the Celestial language has been preserved as a prize example, and most impressively tells a story for which the mother tongue of America seems inadequate.

"We have read your manuscript with infinite delight. By the sacred ashes of our ancestors, we swear that we have never read such a splendid piece of writing. But if we printed it, his majesty, the emperor, our most high and most mighty ruler, would order us to take this as a model, and never print anything inferior. As this would not be possible in less than a thousand years, we with great regret return thy divine manuscript and ask a thousand pardons."

Imagine Colonel George Harvey putting on his horn-rimmed spectacles to indite these lines to the Harper court of countess?"—Affairs at Washington," by Joe Mitchell Chappell in National Magazine for May.

DRAMA LEAGUE

A meeting of the Atlanta Center of the Drama League of America will be held at the Georgian Terrace Wednesday afternoon, May 21, at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Spiker, the president, will speak for ten minutes on the purposes of the league. Mr. Memminger will then read from Galsworthy's play, "The Pigeon," which ran nearly a year at the Little theater, New York. This meeting is open to all members of the league and their friends, and we hope that you can be present.

THE WEEK-END AT THE COUNTRY CLUBS

The dinner-dance at the Driving club and the dance at the Athletic club's country home at East Lake marked the close of a week which was filled with informal entertaining, the annual reception at the Driving club being the only large event of the week.

Numbers of hosts invited guests for the dinner preceding the dance at the Piedmont club, Miss Mary Gaut, of Nashville, who is visiting Mrs. Andrew Calhoun, being the pretty honor guest in the party entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun. The other members of the party included Miss Margaret Mc-Pheeters, of North Carolina; Miss Charles Owens, Miss Ellen Meeks, of Nashville; Mr. Walter Colquitt, Mr. Edward Barnett, Mr. James Alexander and Mrs. Vaughan Nixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowry Porter entertained Mrs. James Hook Spratling, of Macon; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collier and Mr. Marsh Adair.

Among others present were Miss Laura Cowles, Miss Mary Helen Moody, Miss Helen Hawkins, Miss Ruth Stallings, Miss Constance Knowles, Miss Alice Vandiver, Miss Gwendolyn Barnes, Miss Helen Dargan, Miss Ruth Wilson, of New York; Miss Nina Gentry, Miss Gladys Le Vin, Miss Sarah Rawson, Miss Annie McGreevy, Miss Marian Atcheson, Miss Lorna Carr, of St. Louis; Miss Caroline Scott, of Arkansas; Miss Katherine Ellis, Miss Jennie D. At Brookhaven Club.

Sunday afternoon and evening there were a number of informal parties at the Brookhaven club.

Among those present were Miss Laura Cowles, Miss Aimee Hunnicutt, Miss Julia Meador, Miss Isabel Kuhrt, Miss Annie Lee McKenzie, Miss Mary Robinson, Miss Passie May Ottley, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. John King Ottley, Mr. James R. Gray, Mr. Joseph Gatins, Jr., Mr. Madison Bell, Mr. William Parkhurst, Mr. John S. Cohen, Jr., Mr. James R. Gray, Jr., Mr. Phillip L'Engle, Mr. Milton Dargan, Jr., Mr. Roy Dorsey, Mr. Clarence Knowles, Mr. Jackson Dick and Mr. Jesse Draper.

At East Lake.

The tennis courts and golf links at the East Lake club were crowded all day Sunday, the warm sunshine and pleasant summer-like day attracting many to the club. A large number went in swimming also, and on all sides there were evidences that the real outdoor season is well begun.

Pretty summer gowns in cool summer gowns filled the verandas and a few were on the links in more athletic garb, though for the most part the players were men.

Luncheon was served on the porches, a number of congenial parties being formed.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BED TIME

By Thornton W. Burgess

(Copyright, 1913, by J. G. Lloyd.)

Bobby Coon and Jimmy Skunk had their heads together. Now when these two put their heads together you may make up your mind that they are planning mischief. Yes, sir, there is sure to be mischief afoot when Bobby Coon and Jimmy Skunk put their heads together, as they were doing now. Had Peter Rabbit looked that way and seen them he might not have felt quite so easy in his mind as he did. But Peter didn't look back. He was too much taken up with trying to look as important as his new name sounded. You see he had thought the name Peter Rabbit too common, and so he had taken the name Peter Cottontail. Now he was putting on airs and holding his head very high as he went down to the Smiling Pool to call on Jerry Muskrat.

Whenever any one called him by his old name Peter pretended not to hear. He pretended that he had never heard that name and didn't know that he was being spoken to. Bobby Coon and Jimmy Skunk thought it a great joke, and they made up their minds that they would have some fun with Peter and perhaps make him see how very foolish he was. Yes, sir, they planned to teach Peter a lesson. Bobby Coon hurried away to find Reddy Fox and tell him that Peter had gone down to the Smiling Pool and that if he hid beside the path he might catch Peter on the way back.

Jimmy Skunk hunted up Blacky Crow and Sammy Jay and told them of his plan and what he wanted them to do to help. Of course they promised that they would. Then he went to Ol' Mistah Buzzard and told him. Ol' Mistah Buzzard grinned and promised that he would do his share. Then Bobby Coon and Jimmy Skunk hid where they could see all that would happen.

Peter had reached the Smiling Pool and now sat on the bank admiring his own reflection in the water and talking to Jerry Muskrat. He had just told Jerry how when his old name was called out he din't hear it any more when along came Blacky the Crow.

"Hello, Peter Rabbit! You're just the fellow I am looking for. I've got a very important message for you," shouted Blacky.

Peter kept right on talking with Jerry Muskrat just as if he didn't hear, although he was burning with curiosity to know what the message was.

"I say, Peter Rabbit, are you deaf?" shouted Blacky the Crow.

Jerry Muskrat looked up at Blacky and winked. "Peter Rabbit isn't here," said he. "This is Peter Cottontail."

'Oh," said Blacky. "My message is for Peter Rabbit and it's something he really ought to know. I'm sorry he isn't here." And with that away flew Blacky the Crowd chuckling to himself.

Peter looked quite as uncomfortable as he felt, but of course he couldn't say a word after boasting that he didn't hear people who called him Peter Rabbit. Pretty soon along came Sammy Jay. Sammy seemed very much excited.

"Oh, Peter Rabbit, I'm so glad I've found you!" he cried. "I've some very important news for you."

"Peter had all he could do to sit still and pretend not to hear, but he did.

"This is Peter Cottontail," said Jerry Muskrat, winking at Sammy Jay.

"Oh," replied Sammy, "my news is for Peter Rabbit!" And off he flew, chuckling to himself.

Peter looked and felt more uncomfortable than ever. He bade Jerry Muskrat good-by and started for the dear old briar patch to think things over. When he was half way there Ol' Mistah Buzzard came sailing down out of the sky.

"Br'er Cottontail," said he, "if yo' se anything of Br'er Rabbit, yo' tell him that Br'er Fox am hiding behind that big bunch of grass just ahead.

Peter stopped short and his heart gave a great leap. There behind the clump of grass was something red sure enough. Peter didn't wait to see more. He started for home place he knew of in the Green Forest as fast as he could go and behind him raced Reddy Fox. As he ran he heard Blacky the Crow and Sammy Jay laughing, and then he knew that this was the news that they had had for him.

"I—I—guess that Peter Rabbit is a good enough name afte rall," he panted.

WASH AT THE CAPITAL CITY

That Beautiful Light Gray Suit

Is so much admired you can't regret the purchase price. The continuous freshness of it is often remarked too.

"How do you keep a light suit so immaculate?" is the daily question.

"The Capitol City Habit" you answer with pleasure. And you don't regret the now and then dollar you pay for such result.

DIAMONDS
Are a Profitable Possession

Their value is constantly enhancing. Twenty per cent a year is worth while, is it not? That is the rate at which they are advancing.

Of course you must buy good stones. It is the better qualities that are showing the greatest advance in price.

There is no better place to get that kind than here. We pride ourselves on the quality that pervades our stock. We have the investment kind. Come in and examine our stock. The scope of sizes embraces everything from an eighth to three carats. At the same time, let us go into our partial payment plan, together with our very liberal exchange contract.

Upon receipt of references we are glad to send selection packages anywhere from which to choose.

ROAD RECORD NOT BAD; TEAM HIT BALL OFTEN

In the Nineteen Games, Seven of Which Were Won and Eleven Lost, the Team Made 175 Hits for 95 Runs and Only the Generosity of the Hurlers Enabled the Opposing Clubs in Taking as Many Games as Were Dropped—The Trip Was the Hardest of Year, and From Now On Crackers Are Due to Go Stronger

After a jaunt around the hardest end of the Southern league circuit, the Atlanta ball club is once more at home and Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock open a series with the Memphis Turtles. On the road trip, which wasn't half as bad as some would make you believe, the team won seven and dropped eleven. This is a fair percentage on the road and brings the bunch back tied with Montgomery for second place with Mobile not so far away.

The most consoling feature of the whole trip was the manner in which the local bunch hit the ball. Time after time big leads were gained only to be lost. Many blame this upon the poor work of the hurlers, but in many instances it was a bobble at a critical moment which paved the way for a defeat. The hurlers were not entirely to blame and the fielders cannot be blamed for the few errors, th team fielding as a whole in excellent shape.

On the trip the team made 175 hits in 19 games and scored 95 runs. Compared to this was 169 hits by the opposition and 105 tallies. This explains that the opposing teams made their hits count for more runs than did the Crackers, all of which is easily figured when it is pointed out that the Cracker hurlers were a bit too generous with their bases on balls.

However, an average of 9 hits and 5 runs per game isn't half bad and is bound to tell in the long run. The pitchers are bound to get started in good shape and when they do this hard hitting will win many a ball game in rather easy style.

Since the team left Atlanta three new players—Bisland, Chappelle and Fourcliner—have been added, and this bunch will be seen at Ponce de Leon Monday afternoon. Elliott Dent, another hurler, is also on the ground and will be seen in action here within the next two or three days. He comes from the Washington club and if his work in the International league last season is any indication of his caliber he should make Atlanta a mighty good man.

During the two weeks' stay at Ponce de Leon the local team meets Memphis, Mobile, New Orleans and Montgomery. None of these clubs have been seen here this year and fandom will have a chance to get a line on their class. All are especially interested in the strength of the Mobile club, which is now leading the league. In Mobile this bunch took four straight games from Atlanta and for this bunch of defeats the Crackers are out to get revenge during the trip here this week.

Big doings are on tap. On Wednesday the Ad Men will have charge of the park and on Tuesday and Fridays of each week the ladies will be in charge. With the team hitting like it now is the fans are sure to gffive it their undivided support.

GRIFFITH'S BUNCH IS VERY YOUNG BUT THEY CERTAINLY MAKE 'EM GO

With a team which has been described as "a bunch of school kids," Clark Griffith is keeping the American league fans in a ferment, just as he made them stew last year when the Nationals started on their winning streak and finished the season on the heels of the champion Red Sox.

Speed on the bases, heady baseball, an ability to hit hard and timely, high class pitching and catching is the combination that is keeping the Nationals in front of the American league procession.

The Athletics or Washington for the pennant," sniff critics when the season opened. Time was when to mention Washington for anything but basement honors would have evoked a laugh.

With Walter Johnson going as he is, supported by the veteran Tom Hughes and Bob Groom, Washington is fortified in the box; with Carl Cashion, Engle and a couple of others to work in as his judgment dictates, Griffith has a strong second string.

Behind the bat he has Eddie Ainsmith, one of the greatest young catchers in the game; John Henry and Alva Williams.

Chick Gandil, now waiting for a baseball job to send him, is the busy second baseman; George McBride, one of the few great shortstops, and Foster, complete an infield that has brains, speed and fielding ability, with a punch in the bat as well. Foster is at present sick, but his place is being ably filled by the veteran La Porte.

In the outfield Griffith has been working the great hitter and base runner Clyde Milan, Shanks and Shanks. All three have beeen hitting the ball hard an consistently, and sitting on the bench Griffith has youngsters of high class, waiting for the chance to jump in and show that they are capable of filling the shoes of the regulars.

TWO OLD SHORTSTOPS ARE FAST NEARING END

Hans Wagner and Bobby Wallace, Two of the Greatest, Have About Served Time in the Major Circuits

Each passing year chants out the swan song of some battle-scarred veteran of the major leagues. The demands of age cannot be ignored, and it will be served and every little while taps are being sounded for the retirement of one more diamond hero who has doffed his hat for the last time to the plaudits of thousands.

This year tends one to believe that the death knell of one shortstop at least is dangerously near the sounding point. This time it seems to be that grand player, Rhodie Wallace, of the St. Louis Browns. Then, too, reports from Pittsburg, though optimistic, still have a tang of foreboding about them that cannot be ignored. Wagner's knee is good today. How long will it last? the fans ask. For pipelayers appear to be united in declaring that injuries to one's knee have a discomforting habit of bobbing up a long time after everything seems to have been covered over about the member.

The fact that two of the greatest shortstops the game has known, who both been kept out of the initial contests leads one to peruse the dope sheets in the effort to find what other shortstoppers have held down their respective positions when they have passed from the public eye together with a little detail about their successors.

Last year appeared Ray Chapman from Toledo. Chapman blazed a lurid trail from one end of the American association to the other with the Mud Hens and it was only a question of time before he broke into the majors with Cleveland. His work last year combined with his peppery qualities, proved a sensation.

Before Jack Berry made a name for himself as a member of the Philadelphia Athletics, fans of that town just couldn't forget one Monte Cross. His last year with Connie Mack was split by Nicols and Eddie Collins succeeded him, and then Barry appeared. Since then, almost without a break he has been playing the position, and still is going well.

But to little old New York goes the honor of trying out the banner number of shortstops in a desperate effort to find a worthy successor to Germany Elberfeld, the famed "Tabasco Kid." Elberfeld's last good year was 1906. Then it was that his legs, battered and scarred from warding himself off second base, went back on him and he started in 1907 he shared the place with Wid Conroy, coming back again for a short time in 1908. Then Ball fell heir to the job, being succeeded in turn by Hal Chase, Knight, Roach, Foster, Johnson, McMillan, Martin and Stump.

This year finds Chase in as bad a predicament as ever before. With the season only four weeks gone the Peerless One already has twenty and three men. Derrick started and went out because of illness. Sterret came next, being followed by Hartzell, the present incumbent. How long he will last is as problematical a query as is any dealing with the exact age of the pyramids.

Manager Jennings is well satisfied with Donie Bush, thank you, and none others need apply. Right at the present time the shortstopping point is the very least of Hughey's worries.

The same holds true of Heinie Wagner, of Boston.

Memphis Here For a Series

Atlant fans will see a real game of baseball this afternoon when the Crackers and the Turtles tie up in their first game on local grounds. The Turiles have not played here this season and they will make the Crackers go some to get the first game. The Crackers believe that luck has broken with them and seem to think that the Memphis crowd will be easy picking. Paul Musser and Pat Graham will do the battery work for the Crackers, while Kisainger and Seabourn will be the outfery for the visitors. There will be several new faces to greet the fans this afternoon.

Chappelle will be seen for the first time in an Atlanta uniform. Of course he has played ball in Atlanta before but not as a member of the local aggregation.

Purchner will also be seen for the first time in a baseball uniform. The men are all good ball players and good fellows and should make good with local fans.

The Crackers did not get into the city until about noon today and the game will be started a half an hour later, making it 4 o'clock instead of 3:30. This is to give the players a chance for a short rest before the game starts. This promises to be the best game of the season.

OWN TEAMS FOR GAMES

THOMASVILLE, Ga., May 19.—A unique method of witnessing a game of baseball whenever he feels like it has been devised by a citizen of this section, who is an enthusiast over the great American national game, but is so situated as to be debarred the pleasure of witnessing the regular games here. This man, who is a prominent merchant and planter, living some miles in the country below Thomasville, has a large general merchandise store and also a farm upon which he employs a number of hands. These hands he has organized into two ball teams, furnishing to his own credit all the necessary equipment of balls, bats, uniforms, etc., with grounds upon which to play the game. Whenever he feels like enjoying a game he goes out and has them play for him and it is said that almost any afternoon the call to "play ball" may be heard. The players are all colored, but they are said to be very fine at the game and as he may be said to virtually own both teams, the gentleman in question acts as referee or a sort of court of last resort in any baseball disputes that may come up in the course of a game.

TODAY

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 19.—Returning after a successful invasion of the southern half of the league, during which they won nine and lost five games, Chattanooga's club met Montgomery this afternoon in the first of a series of seventeen games on the home field.

Weather clear and warm. Batteries: Chattanooga, Sommers and Street; Montgomery, Bagby and Gribbens.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 19.—Birmingham was accompanied home today by Mobile and the visitors in the first game of the series here will make effort to return the defeat given in Mobile last week.

Batteries—Thompson and Mayer for Birmingham, and Robertson and Schmidt for Mobile.

Indications are for a big attendance. Weather clear.

NASHVILLE, May 19.—New Orleans made her initial appearance of the season here this afternoon, opening the three-game series with Nashville. The weather is crisp and fair. New Orleans did not arrive till shortly before noon and the batery is not announced. Nashville's battery is expected to be Williams and Noyes.

The rule of the National commission that a club must either pay an injured player his salary in full or release him outright, will not hold good in the case of Dick Breen, of Jersey City, it is said, since Breen was not in the service of his club when hurt. Jersey City plans to suspend him for the season.

AUBURN AND GEORGIA PLAY ANNUAL GRID GAME HERE

Auburn and Georgia will play their annual football game in Atlanta at Ponce de Leon park on November 22, 1914.

All arrangements for the change in the place of the game have not been definitely closed, but both parties concerned have agreed to the chage to Atlanta, and it is quite sure it will be played here. The game was originally scheduled for Auburn, but owing to the inconvenience in reaching this small Alabama city, the lack of accommodations and a few other drawbacks the change was decided upon.

This big clash annually takes place on Thanksgiving day, but this year it is to be played on the Saturday before Thanksgiving so as not to conflict with the Tech-Clemson battle. This makes the game agreeable to all parties concerned, there being no conflicts.

The plan to play the game was agreed upon during the stay of the Georgia nine in Atlanta last week. Coach Alex Cunningham readily agreed to the change and when W. R. Tichenor, Auburn's Atlanta representative was seen, he, too, agreed to the shift in the place of meeting. As the decision of these two officials are practically final it can be seen that the game is quite sure to be played in Atlanta.

Last year the Georgia and Auburn football authorities agreed to play first a game in Athens and then one in Auburn, but now they have seen the error of their way and are willing to rectify the mistake. In Athens last year the game drew a large crowd owing to the situation of the city where it was played. But this year it is scheduled to be played in Auburn and this city is hard to reach and very few outsiders would make the trip, all of which would serve to make the game a dead financial loss. On this game the athletic associations of the two schools largely depend and it is best to have it played in some city where a big crowd can be accommodated.

"I am willing that the Auburn-Georgia football game for this year be changed to Atlanta," said W. R. Tichenor when talking of the transfer. "However, I won't agree for it to be changed to any other city. It will be Atlanta or Auburn."

"Of course we'll will agree to play the annual football game with Auburn right here in Atlanta,' says Coach W. A. Cunningham, of Georgia. "In fact it is our sincere wish that this change be made and right now it appears quite sure that such will be the case and Atlanta fans will have a chance to see a mighty good gridiron battle."

LOOKOUTS HAVE HIT STRIDE; PITCHERS ARE GOING GOOD

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 19.—A bad beginning makes a good ending in baseball from a financial standpoint at least. The Lookouts this year opened up like the poorest club that has ever represented this historic burg in Kavanaugh's free-for-all and yet today, although the club is in sixth place there is greater interest in the grand old game locally than has been evinced since the palmy days of 1909 when the Noogans won the Sally league pennant and then deprived the Crackers of the Dixie championship.

Local bugs just at present are firmly convinced that the Lookouts have as good a show for the bunting as any club in the league with the exception of the Gulls and Mobile is allowed but a slight margin. The brand of ball which the Lookouts have put up on the southern ivasion in fact is not the result of a spurt but merely of the beginning of the club to show its real form. When the locals dropped game after game in the spring the local fanatics were always positive that the team was playing under form in view of the hitting and fieldig figures and the present play of the 'Noogans is not considered a flash in the pan. The individual averages of the club warrant the success which the Lookouts have met with in their invasion up to date.

The grand form of Coveleskie and Sommers is accountable for the improved tone of the locals' play but indirectly Gabby Street is the man to whom the credit is due for the effective work of the two star southpaws. After he had worked out with Street two days this spring the Pole remarked that he had a real receiver handling him for the first time since he left Rowdy Elliott and he predicted the return of his 1910 form just as it has in reality arrived.

The entire club however is going in grand consistent style and when "Curt" Elston begins to wield his dormant bludgeon in his mid-season form the ascendency of the Lookouts will proceed with even greater rapidity.

Crowds Visit New Speedway

Large crowds of people were out Sunday afternoon inspecting the new motordrome which is finished and ready for real sure enough big league riding. The track was to have been completed by Saturday afternoon, but the rain of Friday and Saturday prevented any work being done on the structure that will be such a bracer to Atlanta's already long list of sports.

Work will be pushed at the greatest possible speed, the professional riders having gotten extremely tired of loafing for such a length of time, as they have been compelled to do while here in Atlanta.

Quite a number of applications from local amateurs have been received and the riding list will be made up at once. The amateur races will be run on the percentage basis, and the rider having the greatest number of points at the end of the season will be given a handsome cup, besides the different prizes that will be given all along during the season. The percentage of the professionals will also be kept so that the best rider will be able to compete in the elimination races to be held on Brighton Beach during the latter part of the season. Things look mighty good for the promoters, and they promise to give Atlanta some of the best motorcycle races that are possible.

Yale Is After Another Win

BOSTON, May 19.—The work of the Yale baseball team with its fifteen straight victories continues the feature of the season among eastern colleges.

The team has set a record for consecutive victories in intercollegiate competition, and has an unquestioned lead for the unofficial championship.

Brown, regarded as Yale's most serious contender for championship honors, will meet the Blue again this week. A close contest is expected with Brown trying to retrieve a previous defeat.

Aside from the Yale-Brown game, probably the most important game of the week is that at Philadelphia today, where Harvard and Pennsylvania will play their contest postponed from Saturday.

Again Lois Wins.

DOUGLASVILLE, Ga., May 19.—The Lois baseball club won from the Fuller ernoon by a score of 10 to 8. The game was very exciting until the seventh, when the Lois boys decided to put Robinson out of business. The Villa Rica pitcher was his all over the park. The Lois boys have as good a team as theer is.

ERRORS AND HITS THAT WON GAMES

Atlanta played a long-term game yesterday with the Pelicans, the game going eleven innings before the Pelicans finally broke it up in the eleventh with a home run. McIntyre, who was pitching for the Pelicans, played in horseshoe luck in getting by the big end of the score, the Atlanta boys hitting him freely at all times. "Rebel" Williams' hitting was a feature of the game.

Chicago made it four straights from New York by taking yesterday's battle by the score of 5 to 3. Walsh pitched great ball for the Chicago team, letting the New Yorkers down with three hits. This is the fourth battle that Chance's home team has taken from his new "care." The game was marred by the scarcity of hits, both sides getting only seven between them.

The sensational pitching of Walter Johnson and the base running of Cobb were the features of the game yesterday between Washington and Detroit. Washington finally getting the big end of the deal by the narrow score of 2 to 1. Defeat seemed to look Johnson in the face several times, but when the game looked as though it would go the other way, he pulled himself together and pitched magnificent ball. Cobb made the only run for the Tigers, sliding under Ainsmith for a run with the ball in the catcher's hand. Cobb only got one hit out of four times up.

Ryan, the center fielder for the Cleveland team, got three hits out of four times at bat yesterday in the game against Philadelphia, but with all that the Philadelphians got by the score of 4 to 2. Wyckoff was effective on the mound, but Bender saved the day. Barry's hits gave Philadelphia three runs, he getting two hits out of four times up.

Robertson, right fielder for the Mobile team, hit Foxen, the Birmingham pitcher, for four hits yesterday for as many times at bat, but with all that Mobile lost to the Barons by the score of 4 and 2.

St. Louis yesterday walked away with the Boston team, beating the Bostonians by the big score of 9 to 1. But for a fumble in the final inning, Mitchell and his teammates would have shutout the game. Boston got eight hits, but could not make any of them count for anything. The game was slow and unexciting.

AD MEN RUN BALL GAME AT PARK ON WEDNESDAY

There is a big time at Ponce de Leon park Wednesday afternoon for the ad men are in charge of the ball game between Atlanta and Memphis and whether this boosting outfit is found there or not it is sure to be found plenty of action. All members of the club will be in attendance and they are now working overtime to make the golfiz a success.

The park has been turned over to the ad men for the day and each member has tickets which they are selling fast. The proceeds realized from this game will be used in taking the ad men to Baltimore to the big convention next month. This is a national meeting and it is the wish of the local bunch to be well represented.

Some six weeks ago the ad club got back of the move to win the attendance trophy for the Cracker bunch and it was under this boosting outfit is found there that way past the million mark, won the cup ocered by President W. M. Kavanaugh. It is in appreciation o this work that the directors of the local club have turned over the park for Wednesday and they are working just as hard to make the game a success as the ad men.

The local ad club is one of Atlanta's best assets and the fans are due to show their support. Besides making a good ball game you will be helping a cause which is well worth the while.

Tie and Loss With Pelicans In Last Series

Crackers Lost an Eleven-Inning Fight and Then Fought Out a Tie—Wildness Proved Fatal—Hard Hitting

NEW ORLEANS, May 19.—Harry McIntyre, pitcher of the Pelicans, lucked out in his game with the Crackers yesterday afternoon, it taking the Pelicans eleven innings to finally down the Crackers, so good were they going. Price was on the mound for the Crackers and pitched good ball until the first part of the ninth when he had one man on base and walked a man. He then voluntarily left the mound and Chappelle took his place, but to no betterment. The game was fast and exciting, in fact it was one of the best games that has been played on the local diamond.

The hitting of the Crackers was a feature of the game yesterday and got for a home run in the eleventh by Bob Williams the game was easily the property of the Crackers. The score was 5 to 3 when the Pelicans came to bat in their half of the eleventh. Williams started the fireworks by knocking one over the fence for four bases. Angermeier walked, McIntyre hit the ball for a double and Atz ended the game by singling, the final score being 6 to 5 in favor of the locals.

The second battle was not eventful, but for the disturbance that was raised because the umpire did not call the game before he did, thereby giving New Orleans a victory by one run that they had made in the second inning. Evans pitched the second game for the Crackers and was opposed by Brenten. The final score was 1 and 1, when the game was called in the seventh so that the two teams might catch their trains.

Match Liable Between Johnson and McCarty.

CALGARY, Alberta, May 19.—Tommy Burns last night received a telegram from Ed W. Smith, of Chicago, asking if he could arrange a match between Luther McCarty and Jack Johnson in Calgary. Johnson has asked the United States court for a stay of sixty days, giving as his reason that he is "dead broke" and wants a match to get money to pay his fine, the telegram stated. Burns is considering the matter. McCarty is training hard for his match with Pelky on May 24.

CONCERNING JOHNSON'S SPEED.

"How fast is Walter Johnson, Pa,
That people call him speedy?
Is he as fast as Mercury,
Or is the dope all seedy?
Is he as fast as wind or light,
Or say, a rifle bullet?
If you've the answer, put me next,
Get busy, Pop, and pull it."

"The wind is there, my bonny boy,
There's nothing to it, sonny;
The bullet also pikes along
In time to get the money.
But when it comes to cold, raw speed—
The brand that doesn't sag,
This Johnson's got 'em dancing to
The old Pallbearer's Rag."

There have been threatening uprisings by Philadelphia, St. Louis, Cincinnati, etc., for several seasons. But they all succumbed to the Force of Habit after a brief parley. This, however, may be the season in which one of the Worms is due to turn. There has been enough trodding, Allah knows, to produce the first essence of a wiggle any way.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia, for example, are now up there through no freak spurt. They are there because they have been outplaying every rival handily. The Phillies have shown the best pitching in either league and they are likely to show it quite a way yet. Brooklyn is playing regular baseball—and if either or both crack it will be, as suggested, from the force of habit—not through any weakness in playing strength.

THE LATEST ANSWER.

Those who still insist that "they never come back" are requested to take a brief squint in the direction of Cy Falkenberg, the Cleveland pitcher. Cy not only left and returned—but in returning came back with an enlarged repertoire and a heavier portfolio than he ever had at the top of his supposed prime. Two years ago he looked to be waning fast. When he was cut adrift no one expected to look upon his spiral frame again. And today he stands as the closest rival in the American league to Walter Johnson with the finest pitching on display Cleveland has seen since the reign of Addie Joss.

BUNKERS AS IS BUNKERS.

A number of golfers have suggested to us that the African course, trapped by lions, leopards, boa constrictors and such is a joke in the way of unkempt hazards compared to the National course.

"I'd rather pitch a mashie shot over a charging lion any day," writes one, "than to try and carry some of those traps and bunkers at Shinecock Hills."

Which recalls a problem of considerable note—When one, playing this African course, is swallowed by a python, what club does one use to play out with—a niblick or a putter?

We'll never be satisfied until we see a match of some sort between Hans Wagner and Walter J. Travis. Isn't there some natural game at which this pair can fight out the Longevity Championship?

Captain Ritson, of the English polo team, says that the Americans will probably win. Captain Doust, of the visiting tennis team, advances the same thought. The idea is correctly framed. In case the worst comes to the worst there's nothing like having the alibi in advance.

We like this system much better than loud outcries forecasting victory or a "cinch for the pennant." There is time enough for jubilent language after one has finished in front of the field.

HARRY WHITNEY CAPTAINS THE AMERICAN POLO TEAM

More than 40,000 persons will see Harry Payne Whitney, son of the late millionaire and politician who made Grover Cleveland the Democratic candidate for president in 1892—lead the American polo team against the British on the field of Meadow Brook, L. I., June 10. That is, they will see him if he doesn't break his neck in practice meantime. Polo is a millionaire's game and very dangerous game. First, it takes $100,000 worth of ponies to play an international match. As many more ponies are ruined in practice. Second, no one who ever played it for any length of time failed to break an arm, a skull, a leg, or a collar bone. Thus there are two reasons why it will never supplant baseball as the great American game.

The international match against the four led by Captain F. G. Ritson will be played June 10 to June 14. Last year the Americans won. Whitney is a dashing, daredevil player, who rides his pony into anything regardless of consequences, at the same time yelling like a loacoed Indian.

BETTER TO DIE ROOTING THAN NOT TO SEE GAMES

NEW YORK, May 19.—Cheer up, fans! We have a little message of hope and sunshine today for all the good bleacherites who have been in despair over the great Dr. Sargent, of Harvard, and his body blow at baseball. The message of hope is needed, too, because some of the things Dr. Sargent said would surely happen to fans were too terrible to disregard. Lots and lots of rooters have remained in bed these sunny afternoons, fearing the temptation that would bring them to witness the game and hasten their doom. Still other carefree hedonists went just the same, though with the feeling that if they must die it was as well to die yowling for the Giants as whispering to the doctor.

The fine medical phraseology, which is another language like baseball talk and quite as mystifying to the outsider, Dr. Sargent declared that watching a baseball game made a man highly nervous and excited. It wrought up his nervous tension to a perilous attitude, and after keying him up until he was tingling the onery cussed game didn't provide a single "motor outlet" for all the energy.

And there was the rub, according to the medico. The "motor outlet" was not provided. Consequently this pent-up energy led to excesses and even immorality, besides injuring the health of the fan. If the poor fellow could only get a chance to toss a ball a few times or do something outside or sit and look on when everything was right for the working off of a big chunk of surplus energy, why, things would be different. But as the case stood there was no hope for the fan. His days were surely numbered and he might trace every ailment he possessed back to the wicked national game.

Pretty tough situation, wasn't it?

Lots of fans wanted the straight dope. What was there in the "no motor outlet" theory?

One after another big nerve specialists were called on and the facts presented.

And what do you think?

They all laughed! And they laughed big, healthy laughs, too.

IS GOOD THEORY.

And afterward, becoming serious, they said that there was something to the theory, if it was true there was no motor outlet; but on looking the situation over carefully they concluded that the amount of rooting, shouting and pounding on the back which fans indulge in when the emotions are highest provided an excellent "outlet" for ten times the tension the excitement had built up.

Isn't that grand after these days of worry?

For instance, Dr. Thomas D. Wood, of Columbia college, who occupies a similar position to Dr. Sargent, threw back his head and laughed when the evil prophecy was recited to him.

"Dear me," he said, wiping his eyes, "I guess you can tell the fans they needn't worry. To be sure the players are better off than spectators, but that is generally true because athletics are good for us. Baseball is a great big good influence and it is so clean that no one can help being in love with it. We are ever so much better off because of the game than we imagine. Of course, there is a big amount of excitement, but the normal construction of the body will take ample care of that, provided it isn't taken out in shouting and general restlessness during the contest. Watching baseball never hurt anyone."

BASEBALL RELAXATION.

"Well, what next?" he inquired. "This affair reminds me of Grover Cleveland's famous reply 'Important if true.' But it isn't true. On the contrary, baseball is a relaxation. One can relax by having the nerves tuned up. I am willing to send my neurotic patients up to the most exciting baseball game and I feel they will come back better. Anything that provides a healthy interest and keeps a man outdoors in the fresh air which prevails on all baseball grandstands is better far than a similar amusement which takes place indoors. It is good to be keyed up now and then. I'm going to the game myself this afternoon."

"I wonder if Dr. Sargent ever saw fans chasing a car after the game?" remarked Dr. J. Gardner Smith, smiling reminiscently. "There's the 'motor outlet' for nine times the tension a baseball game brings. The spectator gets rid of enough surplus energy during the game if he is excited at all."

Many other physicians were consulted. Some of them didn't like to enter into a controversy with the great Dr. Sargent, but—all laughed.

MOTORCYCLING IS POPULAR; NOW HAS MEMBERSHIP OF 20,000

Five Years Ago the Membership Was Only 1,000, and Now It Is Twenty Times This Number

NEW YORK, May 19.—Springing from a membership of a little more than 1,000 five years ago, the Federation of American Motorcyclists today has close to 20,000 members.

These figures show something of the growth of motorcycling in the United States. And these figures, particularly in the last two or three years, offer some suggestion of the great interest in motorcycling today.

The Federation of American Motorcyclists is the A. A. A. of the motorcycle world.

It was "born" in the rooms of the Alpha Motorcycle club, in Brooklyn, N. Y., September 7, 1903. The call for the meeting was responded to by forty-four men, who became charter members of the F. A. M. Its first president was R. G. Betts, of New York.

The first annual meeting was held July 8, 1904, and at the time the organization boasted 192 members. The next annual meeting was held August 9, 1905, when there were 520 members. June 29, 1906, the membership was 822, and one year later, June 17, 1907, the membership had passed 1,000—standing then at 1,166. At the annual meeting, June 30, 1908, the membership had increased to 1,622.

Thus, in the five years from the date of its organization, the F. A. M. had crept slowly up to a membership of a little more than 1,000.

At the next annual meeting of the F. A. M., held August 1, 1909, the membership had almost doubled. It had reached 2,530.

It almost doubled again in the next year, being 4,652 August 10, 1910.

In the following year it more than doubled, reaching 9,664 on July 9, 1911.

And, despite the greater number of members, the membership had almost doubled again at the time of the next annual meeting, July 1, 1912. Then it was 16,250.

On December 16, 1912, membership card No. 19,320 was issued, showing a gain of more than 3,000 members since July, 1912.

Dr. B. J. Patterson, who was elected president of the F. A. M. last July, hopes and believes that the membership will be close to 30,000 by next July. His predecessors have set "doubling" records for him, and he expects to keep it up. Fred L. Willis, of Indianapolis, was president for the two years when the F. A. M. began "doubling." He took the reins in August, 1909, when the membership was 2,580. During his first year the membership increased to 4,652. During his second year it becale 9,664.

G. H. Hamilton, of Milwaukee, was president from July, 1911, to July, 1912, which time the membership increased from 9,644 to 16,250.

The F. A. M. governs the sport of motorcycling racing, its competition chairman being D. J. P. Thornley, of New York. It promotes and protects the rights of motorcyclists and motorcycling and facilitates touring through a newly established touring bureau.

Fist Battle In Chicago

CHICAGO, May 19.—Automobile houses picked up several hundred men in the downtown district yesterday afternoon and carried them to a secluded spot on the banks of the Desplaines river, where they saw Phil Harrison, champion of the Ghetto, knock out Eddie Nearing, of the Reliance Athletic club, in four rounds. The audience watched the battle in silence, the referee announcing that if there was any cheering the authorities would discover them and spoil the game.

3 Days' Meet Of Hunt Club

NEW YORK, May 17.—Entry blanks have been issued for the three days' meeting of the Washington Riding and Hunt club, which will be held at the Bennings course under a sanction of the Hunts committee of the National Steeplechase and Hunt association. The three races days will be Thursday, May 22; Saturday, May 24, and Monday, May 26.

The stewards of the meeting will be L. M. Garrison, secretary of war; General Leonard Wood, William P. Eno, Colonel R. M. Thompson, Colonel H. T. Allen, Samuel Ross, Henry J. Morris and Charles K. Harrison, Jr.

The events for the first day will be the initial Washington remount steeplechase, Metropolitan club steeplechase, polo scramble, Crevy Chase cup, national capital and the Middleburg and Washington subscription race.

On the second day of the service test, a test to consist of three courses, a total of seventeen miles—twelve miles to be over roads, three miles across country and two miles over a steeplechase course, horses to carry a minimum of 180 pounds and saddles allowed —will be held.

The Washington branch of the National Remount association will present a cup to the owner of the winner, and trophies will be given to the riders of the three placed horses. The other events will be the Benning, Henry of Navarre steeplechase, Rock Creek cup, Stephen B. Elkins' cup, army and navy cup, Washington Riding and Hunt club cup.

RITCHIE IS FLUKE CHAMP

Willie Ritchie, a title holder by virtue of a fluke foul, is out with a statement to the effect that Leach Cross is his most logical opponent. Ritchie's claim to the title is as strong as the argument he now advances as to the man he will fight in his first contest as champion.

This champion has had three twenty-round contests. In two he was whipped. Freddie Welsh gained a verdict over him and Matty Baldwin also earned the honors. On his third attempt to go twenty rounds he won his title from Wolgast after he had been beaten to a pulp b ythe Cadillac bearcat and was given the decision over Wolgast on a foul.

"I will fight Welsh for a guarantee of $15,000." What a generous nature Ritchie has and he picks his opponent for this amount. He absolutely ignores the challenge of Jack Britton, who defeated Baldwin and made Leach Cross look like the merest novice? What a swerthy champion the Queensberry realm has in Ritchie.

The fans will demand that he will meet Britton and when the time comes, Britton will prove to all the world that Ritchie is a fluke title holder.

SWINGS CLUBS 107 HOURS AND THEN WAS DELIRIOUS

LONDON, May 19.—Mr. Tom Burrows, the Australian athlete after a fine exhibition in the Wellington Lines gymnasium, Aldershot, of club swinging lasting 107 hours, suddenly collapsed and the large assembly the dramatic finish came at 5 o'clock. A few minutes before that hour Burrows suddenly roused himself, and developed great irritability. An attendant sprinkled some water on him, and this he seemed to dislike and became delirious. He struck out at a friend on the platform. The clubs were seized, but Burrows broke away, and, turning round, dealt a quartermaster a severe blow on the forewent delirious. For four days and nights he had had no sleep and had been continuously swinging his thirty-one-pound, six ounce clubs at eighty revolutions to the minute. He had set himself the task of swinging clubs for 100 hours and had accomplished this, but hearing an unauthenticated report that some one in Australia had established a record of 112 hours he resolved to go on.

In the early hours of the last morning Burrows exhibited signs of drowsiness, and it was with some difficulty he kept swinging. A continuous rattle of drums and musical selections by regimental bands helped considerably to brighten him, and he occasionally seemed to be entirely re-invigorated. At 2 a. m. he gave a series of ornamental exhibitions. From that period he fought bravely against sleep, but in spite of cornet and posthorn solos in his ears and the continuous cheering by head. Burrows fought out in a frenzied manner, and, falling off the platform into the arms of the officials, gradually sank to the floor. In a few minutes he was sound asleep. He was allowed to remain so for an hour and was then taken home in a taxicab. He fell asleep immediately, and was asleep for twenty-eight hours.

Sheridan Sure He Is Through

NEW YORK, May 19.—Martin Sheridan, the former discus throwing champion of the world and holder of the world's record for the "all around," declares that he will never be seen in competition again. Sheridan's statement was made in answer to a direct question put to him because of the fact that a report had been freely circulated to the effect that Martin would be back this summer and take part in all of the championship discus events. "You can state positively for me," said the big policeman, "that I am through with competition for good. I would like to take part in the games as I used to, but I find that it interferes with my job, so I have decided to cut it out."

Sheridan was asked then whether he could go back into competition and duplicate the performances that made him famous. "I don't think there's a doubt about it," snapped Martin. "At the present time I weigh just 209 pounds.

Famous Shot To Be Coach

AMHERST, May 19.—The Massachusetts Agricultural college has secured Sergeant O. M. Schriver, of the United States marin corps as coach of the rifle teams for the coming summer. Sergeant Schriver was a member of the all-American rifle team which won the international match from the Argentine team at Buenos Aires last summer and also shot in the international small bore team, which recently competed against the English and Australian teams.

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

The Seed Industry of the South

THERE is today a splendid opening throughout the entire south for the breeding of good seed of every description. The farmers must plant good seed to make good crops, and during the past few years I am convinced with more force than ever that whatsoever they soweth that shall they also reap. There are hundreds of farmers who are willing to pay the price, most any price within reason, for good seed if they were only confident of getting something that they were positive would reproduce itself and would give them results. The day has come when the man who has builded a reputation and has proven to the world that he has seed that will produce heavy crops than those else, or that will give profitable results, usually as all the trade that he can possibly handle and at prices that are certainly profitable. There are a lot of men in the south who have paid a lot of attention to the careful line breeding of their corn and have established a reputation and have proven to the world that they have corn of superior merit. Every man of this kind that f know of has this season enjoyed a big demand for his seed corn, and most of them have received $4.00 and $5.00 per bushel for this good corn, and it has been impossible for them to supply their demand. The person who was fortunate enough to get these seed or had sense enough to buy this class of seed rather than to take just any kind, has made a wise investment and will make a profit out of his crops.

On the other hand the man who has established himself and is producing this class of seed is getting five times as much profit out of the same land and for his work as he did before he began selecting good seed or took up the breeding of it. It is a real pleasure to anyone to study the science of farming, the selecting of good seed and to know that they are doing something for themselves and their fellow man and are not keeping behind in the same old rut. From this one cause, if from nothing else, it should stimulate any man to make an enort and attempt to secure this extra price or extra per cent of profit that is sure to him if he will go to a little trouble to accomplish this line of work.

There are several men in the south who have made fortunes out of improved cotton seed. They have had the foresight to get out in the same and for this

Hundred Acres on Cheshire Road Is Sold for $40,000, or $400 an Acre, and May Be Subdivided Later – Luckie Street, West North Avenue and Other Small Sales Reported—Getting Ready for Steel Work on Healey Building

A large acreage deal on the Cheshire road, not far from Piedmont avenue, and some small sales, were announced on Monday.

Van B. Smith, of the Galloway & Smith agency, has sold for a client to the Gate City Realty company 100 acres *of land on the Cheshire road. The ag*gregate consideration was $40,000, or at the rate of $400 an acre.

This property is about a mile northeast of Piedmont avenue. It has a frontage of about 600 feet on the road, and extends back to the line of De-Kalb county, were there is a width of 2,000 feet. This would be on Moreland *avenue if that thoroughfare were ex*tended along the county line.

E. C. Galloway is president of the Gate City Realty company, the purchaser. The company is considering a subdivision of the property.

MRS. LONGSTREET DEFENDS HER POSTOFFICE RECORD

Former Gainesville Postmaster Raps Postmaster General Burleson Before Committee

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 19.—Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, widow of General Longstreet of Confederate fame, appeared before the senate committee on postoffice and post roads today to vindicate her record as postmaster of Gainesville, Ga., notwithstanding the fact that President Wilson has appointed her successor. She said nothing about Mr. H. W. J. Ham.

Gowned becomingly in white, the widow of the famous general told her story in length to the members of the committee, and read many indorsements written by residents of Georgia in which they praised her for her efficiency in office.

She told the committee that when she was first appointed to office in 1904 by former President Theodore Roosevelt, the office at Gainesville was in a very bad condition, that her predecessor had been removed from the office and that te office was temporarily in the hands of the postoffice inspectors. She immediately took steps to bring order out of chaos and how well she succeeded, she said, was shown by the indorsements given her by the patronage of the office.

Mrs. Longstreet said that three months before her term of office expired in 1908 President Roosevelt told her that he intended to reappoint her postmaster at Gainesville. This he did, and the senate confirmed her appointment without referring it to a committee, immediately upon receiving it from the White House.

Mrs. Longstreet read to the committee a part of the statement to the American people written by herself, after President Wilson failed to reappoint her. In this statement she said:

"I have no desire to serve in the Gainesville postoffice under an administration which does not wish to retain me. But, the administration which is displacing me, should not be permitted to slacken my record. In naming my successor the postmaster general made announcement that my office was poorly managed. I respectfully submit that the people whom I have served for eight years are more competent witnesses than a postmaster general who has occupied his chair for sixty days, and who is seeking justification of his action by deed."

Mrs. Longstreet gave high praise to Theodore Roosevelt, calling him the "first statesman of the world."

"Do I hate the gentleman who are in the saddle in the good old Democratic State of Georgia in a year that has given a Virginia president to the White House," said Mrs. Longstreet in conclusion. "No, no, I simply turn them over to America."

Anniston's Altitude Exploited

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

ANNISTON, Ala., May 19.—In the annual catalogue of Mobile institute, which has just been issued, particular attention has been paid to the climate and altitude of Anniston by Dr. J. H. Sparing, who has issued the prettiest catalogue ever gotten out here. Among the views shown is a six-page panoramic view of the city. This view shows Blue mountain, 1,500 feet; the peaks of the Chocolocco range, 2,074 feet; The-aw-ha, or Horseblock mountain, 2,467 feet. Both Horseblock and Chocolocco peaks are higher than Lookout mountain, according to the instrument's survey. The catalogue contains several other beautiful scenes in and around Anniston.

THE EVENING STORY

A BARGAIN BLOUSE

(Copyright, 1913, by W. Werner.)

HER name was Patricia Fayre. If you were of Westmore her name would have accounted for much to you, for the Fayre name is as old as Westmore itself. Indeed, Westmore came near being called Fayre, there were so many Fayres there to begin with and they had so much to do with making it what it is. For a long time the Fayres owned everything and were everything. But now there are left only the widow Fayre and Patricia. And all that was left to them of the Fayre riches was a little old house on one of the streets which the Fayres Westmore had gone and left forgotten.

Mrs. Fayre was sickly and Patricia worked for the support of both. Six days out of the seven she sat behind a typewriter and remembered only that she was earning money and needed to earn it. But on the seventh she put on her best dress and her best hat and went to church and tried to find in the singing of the choir and the minister's prosy sermon all the gay, bright, charming things she had to do without the week through. On Sundays there was something extra for dinner. On Sunday, too, Patricia usually had a new book or magazine to read.

You see, Patricia was like this with Patricia. Westmore, being now more new than old, had forgotten what the Fayre name stood for. But Patricia had not forgotten and never could. The people she might have had for friends she did not care for, and the people she wanted as friends didn't care for her. So she went her way alone. And at twenty-three she had serious ideas of living and of what was best.

Then something happened. The right man arrived. He walked into her employer's office one morning. He was tall, broad-shouldered, dark, fine square and clean face looked as if the manhood behind it was square and clean, too. Patricia, knowing, as Westmore had not, save for one thing and that was his name. He introduced himself as Felix Fayre. Fayre! Patricia's eyes came up from her typewriting with a leap. He never saw her. And she was in plain sight, too. She might have gone on looking at him forever as far as attracting attention was concerned. He evidently had no thought of finding his fate behind a typewriter.

"My name is Fayre—Felix Fayre," he said clearly. "I have a piece of property I'd like to put in your hands for sale—a big, wooded tract; first growth timber. Even anxious for a quick sale. I'm going west and I want the money to take with me."

In these few words he stated the whole proposition. But the real estate agent, who was Patricia's employe, was a great stickler for details. He made his client sit down and answer a good many questions. And Patricia heard them all.

Before the interview ended she became deeply interested in the young man, whose name was like her own. She hated somehow to think of his going west. And she wondered why he was going.

The next time he visited the office Patricia was there alone. He said both Patricia and Felix Fayre dark. But after she was thus briefly brought to his notice he appeared to put her out of his mind as he had doubtless more weighty things to consider than blond-haired stenographers.

The third time he came the returns were coming in from the real estate agent's advertisement of the property and there were letters to dictate.

"Miss Fayre," said Mr. Whitfield in his curt way, "take dictation."

And Patricia took it under the dark eyes, which were certainly becoming interested at last. But he went away without any audible cudiosity, and because he did that Patricia winked several times sleepleessly into the darkness of her chill room. "I'm only a typewriter girl, if I am a Fayre!" she sighed. "Oh, dear, if only he wasn't so nice." And before she slept the sigh became a sob.

Thereafter for several days she did not see him, though she believed he was living in town. There seemed to be difficulty in selling the property to the right person. Timber tracts were not in hot demand, especially when cash was wanted for them. Sometimes Patricia hoped he would not sell it at all. But, of course, she knew that he would in the end.

There came a blizzardly day—all wind and snow and creaky coldness above and below. At about 4 o'clock the steam began to go down in the office building where she worked and at 4:30 Mr. Winfield told her that she could go home.

It was an unexpected release, and Patricia buttoned and velled herself as quickly as possible and started forth.

"It's an awful day," she thought as soon as she got out of doors. "It's a perfectly terrible day, but—oh!"

Her breath and her feet stopped at the same instant, and she stared at the window she was passing. There was a most delectable array of marked-down blouses. Patricia remembered that she needed a Sunday blouse. "I'll just run in and look," she thought.

For Patricia to look was to buy. The bewitching gray striped silk blouse, with a touch of really passable cream lace and green satin, marked $2.98, seemed a bargain never to be encountered again. And, though she had only $3 in her purse, with the prospect of no more money until pay day, she bought it.

The wind was blowing a gale when she again reached the street, and the very first thing it did was to snatch at her hat and the parcel containing the blouse, which she had tucked under her arm for safe keeping.

Patricia's hand shot up toward her hat, and away went the parcel. Out it whipped into the street, where vehicles, horseless and otherwise, were struggling to come and go. Patricia, aghast, saw it pause in its flight just before a huge dray horse. If that horse should step on it—her precious blouse! With a gasp, as if in the turmoil, regardless of all save one thing. She heard a shout, but her hand was ready to snatch the precious parcel, so she did not heed.

At that instant the mocking wind snatched the parcel away, and she went down on her knees by the fender of a huge car, which swerved just a fraction of an inch too little.

She opened her eyes in a drug store. Outside the windows pressed a crowd of curious faces and the air smelled of ammonia. "My gray silk blouse!" she said, wailing out the first thought that came to her.

"Out of her head," somebody muttered.

She looked indignantly in the direction of the voice. "Im not out of my head, and I want to go home," she solutely.

A dark, joyfully recognized face moved out from the indistinct group of faces about her. A deep voice spoke. "I'll take you home."

Presntly she found herself in a car with him and the car was flying toward the street and number she had given him.

"It wasn't my car that hit you," he vouchsafed.

"No, I knew it couldn't have been," replied Patricia, earnestly.

Her mother ran out to receive her. He went away and she was led in and comforted and cried over and put to bed with all the black and blue places rubbed with home-made liniment.

Before she slept she came a messenger bearing a box. And in the box were two dozen American beauty roses. Next to it appeared the man himself after her. And the next day after he took her out for a spin in his car.

"By the way," he said, "I've been looking up the Fayre family tree and find we're cousins of a sort. You see, my mother was a Fayre and father took her name instead of the other way round. Father's name was Jones. Odd, wasn't it?"

They both laughed.

The next day he came again, for Patricia was still unable to go back to work, and this time he had a parcel.

"Is this it?" he asked anxiously as he gave it to her.

Bewildered Patricia undid the paper. Within, quite unsoiled, was the blouse that she had come near giving her life for.

"The wind blew it into my car as I was racing forward to save you," he explained, simply.

As he was going away he said, thoughtfully: "By the way, I've decided not to sell my timber tract after all. I guess I'll stay east and manage it myself. You wouldn't like the west, would you?"

"No," said Patricia eagerly, "I don't believe I would."

CRIME ON DECREASE HERE, CHIEF DISCOVERS

Murder Cases Increase, but Otherwise There Is a Let-Up

Crime is noton the increase in Atlanta, no matter how the increased cost of living or other social problems may affect other localities. A tabulated statement just prepared by Chief of Police Beavers on request of Chief J. M. Quigly, of Rochester, New York, who is gathering statistics from all parts of the country, shows that during the last four years the number of arrests in Atlanta has remained about stationary.

Taking into account the increase in population this means that crime is actually decreasing.

Murders are the only crime which increased in numbers since 1909. In that year there were only 8 against 19 in 1912. In 1910 there were 9, and in 1911 15. On the other hand convictions on charges of disorderly conduct, drunk, larceny, burglary, highway robbery and assault with intent to murder have decreased slightly in number. In disorderly conduct cases, for instance—there were 10,075 arrests in 1909, 9,618 in 1910, 8,802 in 1911, and 9,089 in 1912.

Chief of Police Beaves believes that the closing ofthe tenderloin will have the effect of making a still greater decrease during this year.

WOULD STOP TRAINS ON SOUTH GEORGIA RAILWAY

A formal petition for permission to discontinue train service over the Hawkinsville and Western railway from Hawkinsville, Pulaski county, to Grovania, Houston county, a distance of about eight miles, has been filed with the state railroad commission by the Gulf Line Railway company, which is operating the first named road under a contract entered into on July 1, 1912, which expires June 30, 1913.

It appears that the Hawkinsville and Western Railway company built the road and rented it the Gulf Line, and that it was understood that the road was to be extended on from Grovania to Perry, Houston county. The extension has not been built and the line which has been in operation for almost a year is said to have been very unprofitable.

In fact, some months ago the Hawkinsville and Western waived its right to rental charges.

The petition of the Gulf Line will be taken under consideration by the commission at its next meeting. Under service cannot be discontinued without the rules of the commission, train authority from the commission.

MERCER UNIVERSITY MAY LOSE PRESIDENT

Dr. S. Y. Jameson Has Been Called to Ouchata College in Oklahoma

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 19.—Mercer University may lose the services of Dr. S. Y. Jameson, who has been at its head for several years. Dr. Jameson has been elected president of Ouchata Baptist Co-Educational college at Arkadelphia, Okla., according to news received here and will probably accept. Strong pressure is being brought to keep him in Georgia.

OLD AGE AND DIABETES

Youth is supposed to favor the patient in disease, but this does not appear to be true of Diabetes. In young people the results under Fulton's Diabetic Compound are small and the recoveries rare, but in people of middle age and over we begin to look for decrease in the specific gravity and sugar by the twentieth day.

An important case was the vice president of a California insurance company. He was about seventy-eight when he turned to Fulton's Diabetic Compound for relief. It soon controlled the symptoms and he was living in comfort when the fire and 'quake of 1906 broke his spirit and he succumbed about his eighty-sixth year.

A recent death in Sacramento, Cal., terminated another case that the Diabetic Compound had prolonged into the seventies. He was in a hospital and was sent home as incurable, and there was a sad time on his arrival. He was put on Fulton's Diabetic Compound. In six months he was so improved that he returned to his employment. This was in 1899. Patient was strong and hearty till 1913, when he passed away at a ripe age thirteen years after the critical period that it was believed would terminate his existence.

If you have Diabetes, you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Diabetic Compound before giving up. It can be had at Frank Edmondson & Bro., 11 N. Broad St. and 106 N. Pryor St., Atlanta, Ga.

SOUTHERN CHURCH REFUSES TO CHANGE THE INFANT CLAUSE

PRESBYTERIANS' PROGRAM

MONDAY.

9 A. M.—U. S. A. assembly resumed, Baptist Tabernacle, Luckie street.

9 A. M.—U. S. assembly resumed, North Avenue Presbyterian, Peachtree.

9 A. M.—U. P. assembly resumed, Central Presbyterian, Washington street.

11 A. M.—Associate Reformed conference resumed, A. R. Presbyterian church, Whitehall street.

2 P. M.—U. P. assembly reconvened.

3 P. M.—U. S. assembly reconvened.

4 P. M.—U. S. A. assembly reconvened.

8 P. M.—Popular meeting, all assemblies, auditorium, on "Work Among Colored People."

Rev. J. G. Snedecor, U. S., Tuscaloosa, Ala., will preside over the auditorium meeting. The speakers will be Dr. E. P. Cowan, U. S. A., Pittsburg; Dr. R. W. McGhanahan, U. P., Knoxville; and Dr. J. S. Lyons, U. S., Louisville, Ky.

The moderator, however, was firm in his stand to give the question an impartial hearing before the assembly and all who so desired were allowed five minutes each in which to express their views.

The calculations of both sides to have the matter settled one way once and for all were almost upset on a substitute motion by Dr. Gaines which would have requested the presbyteries to reconsider their vote on the clause and strike out chapter X, section 3, thus carrying the matter over to the next keenral assembly. Dr. Gaines explained his position to The Journal as an effort to put an end to the debate and obliterate all feeling. The substitute was lost by a small majority and the pervious question again called for.

Leaders of the conflicting factions, Dr. Clyce and Dr. McPheeters were both allowed five minutes each for concluding arguments. Both were applauded at the conclusion of their addresses. The result of the standing vote has already been told.

COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

The report of the special committee appointed to canvass answers of the presbyteries to assembly overtures were adopted. This report, as can be seen, carries with it the dissenting opinion of the presbyteries on the elect infant clause. The adoption, however, expressed no sentiment of the assembly, but simply its acceptance of the vote on the questions put to them.

The report follows:

Atlanta, Ga., May 19, 1913.

Your special committee appointed to canvass the vote of the presbyteries upon the several overtures sent down to them by the assembly of 1912 beg to submit the following report:

So far as your committee is informed there are now eighty-five presbyteries connected with the assembly, and we find that:

1. On the amendment of the Confession of Faith, Chapter X, section 3, known as "The Elect Infant Clause":

Fifty-five presbyteries vote "aye."

Twenty-two presbyteries vote "no."

Ten presbyteries make no answer.

2. On the amendment of the book of Church Order, paragraph 87, as to a change in the basis of representation in the general assembly:

Fifty-five presbyteries vote "aye."

One presbytery (Norfolk) approves in part.

Fourteen presbyteries vote "no."

Seventeen presbyteries make no answer.

3. On the amendment of the Book of Church Order, paragraph 94, recommending that both synod and assembly be empowered to commit the trial of cases coming before them on appeal to a commission composed of others than members of the court from which the case shall come up:

Fifty-three presbyteries vote "aye."

Sevesteen presbyteries vote "no."

Seventeen presbyteries make no answer.

4. On the amendment to the Book of Church Order, paragraph 132 to 134, touching the requirements for licensure of candidates for the ministry fifty-eight presbyteries vote "aye," twelve presbyteries vote "no," seventeen presbyteries make no answer.

5. Four presbyteries, viz: La Fayette, Lexington, Potosi and West Hanover, overture the assembly to expunge from the Confession of Faith the whole of Section 3 of Chapter X.

In presenting this report your committee would call the attention of the assembly to two facts:

(a) A large number of presbyteries (approximately 20 per cent of the entire number) have ignored all or most of the overtures submitted to them by the assembly.

(b) While a majority of these reports compiled with the instructions of the assembly, and were clearly stated and presented on separate sheets of paper, yet an unhappily large number of them were injected at random into personal letters to the stated clerk, the discussion of assessments, and other matters equally extraneous.

Such confused and careless methods of transacting the church's business seem to be wholly without excuse.

Respectfully submitted, for the committee,

H. TUCKER GRAHAM,
Chairman.

THREE-FOURTHS VOTE REQUIRED.

The first intimation of what action the assembly would take in casting its future ballot on the union with any other branch of the Presbyterian church came when the conference unanimously adopted the report of the committee on bills and overtures, declaring for a three-quarter vote to decide the question, as is the rule with the 85 presbyteries.

This overture came from the Lexington presbytery, announcing its decision that there be three-quarters in favor of the union and earnestly requesting that the general assembly take it from the table.

Swallows Poison, Feels Well, But Can Never Live

MACON, Ga., May 19.—B. Sanders Walker, the prominent banker and real estate dealer of this city, who swallowed poison by mistake last Wednesday night, was able to be up and about early today, and experienced no pain, although physicians declare he cannot live.

Messages from all parts of the country have been received by Mr. Walker, some from surgeons and physicians, who offer their services to assist him in his fight to overcome the effects of the poison.

Mr. Walker swallowed the poison, mistaking it for headache tablets. When told by physicians on Friday that he could not live, Walker resigned himself to his fate and left his bed, dressed and held a reception to his friends at his home.

RESINOL A SAFE SKIN TREATMENT

You need never hesitate to use Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. There is nothing in them to injure the tenderest surface. Resinol is a doctor's prescription which proved so successful for eczema, rinsworm and other itching, burning, unsightly skin eruptions that it has been used by other physicians all over the country for eighteen years. No other treatment for the skin now before the public can show such a record of professional approval.

In a single month two hundred and twenty-one doctors wrote us indorsing the Resinol preparations. They would not have done so if they had not found them highly valuable in their own practice. They prescribe Resinol freely, confident that its soothing, healing action is brought about by agents so bland and gentle as to be suitted to the most delicate skin—even of a tiny baby.

The nearest druggist sells Resinol Ointment (50c and $1.00) and Resinol Soap (25c) or you can try them free by writing to Dept. 28-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., for liberal sample of each. (Advt.)

LEGAL NOTICES.

GEORGIA, Fulton County.

To Honorable Phillip Cook, Secretary of State of Georgia.

The petition of A. R. Brittain, G. W. Parker, Maurice H. Thomas, Paul Barringer and H. L. Bloodworth, all residing in Atlanta, Fulton county, Georgia—shows that petitioners desire to form an insurance company under the name of Equitable Industrial Insurance company for the purpose of doing an industrial, life, health and accident insurance business in accordance with the laws of the state of Georgia and that the amount of the capital stock of said company shall be fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars divided into shares of the par value of one hundred ($100) dollars each and each one of petitioners agrees to take one share of said capital stock.

The said capital stock may be decreased to any amount not less than twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars and from time to time increased to any amount not exceeding two hundred thousand ($200,000) dollars upon the affirmative vote of a majority of all outstanding stock and said company may wind up its business and liquidate its assets upon the affirmative vote of a majority of all of the outstanding stock.

Petitioners intend to go forward without delay to raise the capital stock and organize said company and they request that they be incorporated under the laws of Georgia.

Petitioners further show that they have given thirty days' notice of their intention to apply for this charter by the publication of this petition once a week for four weeks in The Atlanta Journal, the newspaper publishing the legal advertisements of Fulton county, Georgia, where the office of said company is to be located.

FOUR KILLED WHEN A TRAIN HITS AUTO

Three Women and One Man Meet Death—Another Is Seriously Hurt

(By Associated Press.)

WARREN, Ohio, May 19.—Three women and one man are dead and another man seriously injured as a result of a Baltimore and Ohio express train striking the automobile in which the party rode at Leavittsburg, Ohio, late Sunday afternoon. Four of the occupants were carried for 200 yards on the pilot of the engine.

The dead are:

MRS. HENRY TURNER, seventy-five.

Mrs. FRANK HOUSEL, forty.

MRS. WARD TURNER, forty.

WARD TURNER.

Frank Howard was removed to his home seriously injured. Frank Housel, the sixth member of the party, jumped just before the collision occurred. All of the party were residents of Warren.

Mr. Turner, who was driving the automobile, failed to see the train approaching until within 100 yards of the crossing. When he attempted to apply the brakes he stopped the engine and the machine coasted on the track in front of the train.

REFERENDUM ASKED ON JAP BILL IN CALIFORNIA

pressed the belief that the situation created thereby is more dangerous than it was on any previous occasion.

The Times, commenting editorially, says:

"The ultimate point in the dispute does not affect America alone, but is essentially a world question. There should be plenty of room for the surplus millions of Japan and China in the undeveloped Asiatic territories for many decades to come.

"But California offers a quicker pathway to affluence for the ambitious Asiatics; therefore the fears of the Californians, thought to be exaggerated and premature, are not entirely groundless, and no useful purpose will be served by blind condemnation of the tendencies of public opinion in the western states.

"Whatever may be the issue of the present dispute, it is a question of magnitude for the white races in the future. Until the situation becomes more strained we prefer to believe that some middle course of settlement will be found.

"While Japan is fully warranted in standing on her treaty rights, she will do well to remember that a claim to enter a neighbor's garden is not the kind of a claim that can be pressed with unrestricted indignation, however strong its documentary support may be."

PRESBYTERIANS INVITED TO VISIT NEGRO SCHOOL

Rev. A. F. Owens, of Tuskeegee Institute, Alabama, was invited by the Associate Reformed Presbyterians Monday morning to extend the invitation of Booker T. Washington to visit his great institution for negroes.

After an address by him, the assembly unanimously adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, That we have received with pleasure the cordial invitation extended to us to visit Tuskegee Institute, that we commend the acceptance of the invitation to any of our number whose circumstances may enable them to do so, and that we express our deep interest in the work of the institute."

SUFFRAGETTES HIRE FIREBUGS IN LONDON

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, May 19.—Confirmation of the hint that militant suffragettes were hiring women of the lower class as members of their "arson squads," was received this morning when Nellie Robinson was arrested outside the famous new college chapel at Hempstead.

The woman described herself as a servant and said she was awaiting the arrival of two suffragettes under whose direction she was going to fire the church.

The police magistrate remarked that she "seemed to be in course of training as a professional petroleum incentive under miscreants worse than herself."

KERN'S RESOLUTION MAY BRING ON MINE PROBE

Senate Wrangles Over Investigation in West Virginia Mine District

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Senator Kern's resolution to investigate conditions in the West Virginia coal strike region was again the unfinished business when the senate met today. A vote was expected before adjournment.

Senators opposing the inquiry resolution in its present form planned today to have it referred to the labor committee *to determine whether an investi*gation should be conducted. Should it develop that the resolution could not pass as it now stands, its proponents probably would propose that it be referred to the same committee, directing, however, that a subcommittee of three conduct an inquiry. If this were done, Senator Borah, who introduced the original resolution in the last congress, would be appointed chairman of the subcommittee.

give his best efforts towards bringing to justice the criminal, regardless of who he may be.

Mr. Felder again urges the people to support the Burns fund. "If the people want to see this mystery solved the Burns people will do the work," he said.

"And we must ask the support of the people. If they respond to the appeal for funds, William J. Burns himself will come here at the earliest possible moment, if Mr. Toble has not found the evidence to convict the murderer before he arrives from Europe."

The Burns man has no criticism of anything that has been done in working the case, and says that the unworked features to which he is devoting his attention, were overlooked probably because the officials were thrown off the track by the many false rumors and clues, which presented themselves soon after the crime was discovered.

CONFERS WITH SOLICITOR.

The Burns agent has already had a lengthy conference with the solicitor general, who gave him considerable information on the investigation.

"Mr. Dorsey," he said, "informs me that I am to be accorded just the same treatment given other detectives on the case, and in this he assumes a very proper attitude. We want to do our work from the ground up, and it is only proper that we should."

Solicitor General Dorsey on Monday was in conference for some time with Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford, and during the morning he interviewed several witnesses in the case. While Mr. Dorsey is said to be preparing to submit the testimony in the case to the grand jury in the briefest form possible not to injure the case, it will probably take that body more than a day to dispose of the matter.

NOT A NEW ARREST.

James Connolly, the negro sweeper at the National Pencil factory, who was arrested two weeks ago, when found washing a shirt in the factory, has never been released. The police are detaining him because of their belief that he, like Newt Lee, knows more about the murder of Mary Phagan than he has told the officers.

Connolly, who has been sweated regularly by the officers, was given the handwriting test on Sunday. He wrote from dictation the words on the notes found by Mary Phagan's body, and his writing will be placed in the hands of the solicitor general to be compared by his experts with the original.

Connolly's wife, who is not in custody, was recently summoned to headquarters, where she stoutly defended her husband.

Connolly claims absolute ignorance of the crime.

Suspicion was first directed against him two weeks ago, when he was seen washing a shirt, which was thought to be bloodstained.

When questioned about his action he told the police the very plausible story that he was simply washing his only shirt because he desired to "clean-up" in honor of the inquest, before which he had been ordered to appear that afternoon.

Connolly has never been seriously considered as a suspect.

Leo M. Frank, superintendnt of the National Pencil factory, who was held by the coroner's jury, was visited by more than a score of friends Sunday, many of whom remained several hours. Frank has adapted himself to the routine of the prison and his health and spirits remain good.

DR. WHITE ASKS PROBE OF BAPTIST BUSINESS

Atlanta Pastor Springs Sensation in Convention—Wants Methods Probed

BY REV. ALEX W. BEALER.

ST. LOUIS, May 19.—The sensation of the hour in the southern Baptist convention was the resolution of Dr. John E. White, of Atlanta, to appoint a special commission to make a general investigation of the business methods of the body.

The brethren all realize that there is more in the resolution than is expressed on the surface. No wrong do*ing is charged to anyone, and* indeed there is none, but the trouble has been that the machinery of the convention is too antiquated for its present enterprises, in which more than $1,000,000 a year is being expended.

There has unconsciously grown up a rivalry between the foreign mission board, with headquarters in Richmond, and the home mission board, with headquarters in Atlanta. This has led, in the opinion of many brethren, to the employment of too many secretaries.

The movement to raise a fund of a million and a half dollars to build churches and schools in foreign lands, to commemorate the memory of Judson, necessitated the employment of a special secretary. This was followed up by the home board employing a special man to look after the campaign to raise a million dollars as a church extension fund.

The delegates are heartily in favor of both these movements, but the rivalry created between the two boards by these and other movements is creating a foreign board constituency. For the home board it also resulted in high pressure methods and an overlapping of appeals which is often embarrassing to the local pastors. Our purpose of the commission is to do away with this rivalry and to bring the two boards into perfect harmony.

Under the machinery adopted sixty-eight years ago the charge is made that the annual meetings are not as repre*sentative as they should be. They now* amount to little more than a satisfaction of what the boards have done during the year.

The average member feels a delicacy in speaking from the floor, and to some it is an act amounting almost to treason to object to the plans that are printed by the leaders to the convention.

The idea is for the commission to bring the convention back to the point where it will be more democratic in its methods.

The commission as appointed is composed of men of such characters that nothing rash will be done. Its report will be watched for with great interest. The commission consists of E. C. Dorsan, of Macon, Ga.; John E. White, of Atlanta; J. B. Gambrell, of Texas; W. W. Lasdrum, of Kentucky; William Elyson, of Richmond; G. C. Savage, of Nashville; C. P. Senter, of Missouri; R. J. Willingborn, secretary of the foreign mission board; B. D. Gray, of the home mission board; J. M. Frost, of the Sunday school board, and E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist The*ological seminary. The convention ad*journs this afternoon, to meet next year in Nashville.

TRUSTS' PRODUCTS MAY BE PUT ON FREE LIST

Senator Kenyon Asks Amendment to Tariff Bill Free Listing All Trust Products

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—An amendment to the tariff bill introduced today by Senator Kenyon proposed that when any corporation or concern was adjudged a monopoly, its products should automatically go on the free list. Mr. Kenyon has hope that the finance committee may favorably consider the amendment, but, if not, he will press it on the floor. The proposal has almost unlimited possibilities for overturning schedules.

The question of whether products of concerns reorganized since the supreme court held them to be monopolies might still be under monopolistic control also would enter into the application of the law should the Kenyon amendment be incorporated.

Sub-committees of the finance committee plan to meet every day this week to consider the wool, cotton, sugar and chemical schedules of the tariff bill. On all these manufacturers are here pleading to be heard against the rates of the Underwood bill.

Chairman Simmons has called a meeting of the entire finance committee for tomorrow. A set of questions to manufacturers proposed by Senator LaFollette are to be sent out.

CATACORNERED CAR BLOCKS STREET TRAFFIC

For more than half an hour Monday afternoon all of the cars that pass either on Mitchell or South Pryor streets were halted by a peculiar accident to pay-as-you-enter car 300, which was en route to Inman Park from Grant park.

The front truck of this car passed the switch on Pryor and Mitchell streets in a perfectly normal manner, but the switch in some way was changed by the time the rear trucks struck it. As a result the trolley was thrown diagonally across the corner, blocking cars in four directions.

The accident occurred at about 1:30 o'clock.

POSSE ENTERS SWAMP TO GET BLACK DESPERADO

Negro Wanted in South Carolina for Assault and Murder Located Near Ludowici

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

WAYCROSS, Ga., May 19.—Early this afternoon, a posse of Liberty and Wayne county people will enter the Altamaha river swamp to get the negro desperado, Austin, wanted in South Carolina for assaulting a white woman and killing two men.

The hiding place of Austin was disclosed by a negro who has been feed*ing him. A through Atlantic Coast* Line train was stopped at Ludowici for the Jesup posse and there will be hundreds in the man hunt this afternoon.

While Austin is wanted in South Carolina the murderer is wanted for many causes. The Georgians will deal with him promptly if he is caught, it is believed.

time back, on account of the new salary system going into effect, but since the supreme court ruling, he was put back to his old position as one of the inside jailers. He, too, denies any mutiny, or that anything was thrown out into the corridors.

MAJOR GENERAL BARRY HERE ON ANNUAL TOUR

Commander of Eastern Department of the United States Army Visits Fort

Major General Thomas H. Barry, commander of the Eastern department of the United States army and formerly commander of the department of the gulf in Atlanta, was in the city Monday on his annual tour of inspection of his department.

General Barry reached Atlanta at noon Sunday and returned to New York at 2:45 o'clock Monday afternoon, having completed his work. Monday morning was spent by him at Fort McPherson in a tour over the post grounds in company with Colonel J. T. Van Orsdale, comanding officer at the fort.

General Barry is known well in Atlanta, having made many friends here several years ago in connection with his work in the gulf department. The shortness of his stay was regretted by many who would like to greet him once more.

Frank Taylor Dead.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 19.—Frank E. Taylor died suddenly late last night at his residence in his seventieth year. He was for more than thirty years actively identified with the phosphate industry, being connected for the past fifteen years with Peter B and Robert S. Bradley, of Boston. He retired about a month ago on account of ill health. He is survived by a widow and eight children. His son, the Rev. James H. Taylor, is pastor of the church President Wilson attends in Washington.

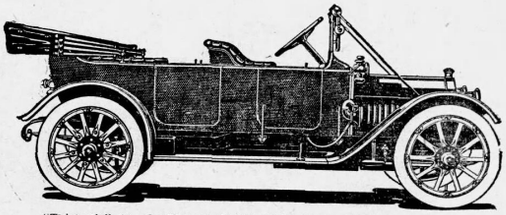
NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY



"Thirty-six" (4 cyl.; 36 b.p.) $1,950, Fully Equipped. F. O. B. Detroit.

"First Class"

That's How You Travel When You Ride in a Chalmers Car

Thousands and thousands of people every day pay extra money to travel "first class" on ships and trains. "First class" means that you have the roomiest and most comfortable berth, or that you ride in the strongest and smoothest running train. A "first class" ticket *also means that every pre*caution has been taken for your safe delivery at your destination.

You travel "first class" when you ride in your Chalmers.

You can buy a cheaper car than the Chalmers. But it won't have the features of comfort, beauty, convenience, and mechanical excellence which make the Chalmers "first class."

The "first class" Chalmers has big, roomy bodies with Turkish cushions and 11-inch upholstery. It has extra large wheels and tires. It has a smooth running, powerful long stroke motor. It has a four-forward speed transmission with ground gears of the finest steel. It has long, flexible springs. It has axles of nickel steel, and brakes twenty-five times as large in proportion to weight as those of a locomotive. It has all controls centered on the cowl dash. It is fully equipped.

These are the things you cannot get below the Chalmers price. These are the features which make the Chalmers "first class." You may "save" $300 to $500 on the original purchase price of your car, but you will lose many times that amount by missing the satisfactory service, the comfort, the convenience, the pride of ownership, which you get in a Chalmers.

It is a genuine quality car at a medium price. It costs less to travel in the "first class" Chalmers than in any other car approaching it in quality.
